25 MICHIGAN CONVICTS FLEE DURING RIOT

Eight Guards Overpowered in Ionia Reformatory; Escape Made in Autos

SIX PRISONERS ARMED

Smoke Screen Thrown Up To Prevent Dearborn Officers from Following

Ionia, Mich, Aug 28—Two of the 25 inmates of the Ionia Reformatory who escaped during a riot there early today were captured by Chief Warden Charles Shean in a woods near Shiloh six miles north of here shortly before noon. They are Charles Smith and Napoleon Smith. Both were sentenced in Detroit on robbery charges.

Ionia, Mich, Aug 28—Twenty-five convicts escaped from the Ionia Reformatory after they had overpowered eight guards during a riot there early today.

Three fleeing cars were sighted by Dearborn officers two hours after the escape. The Dearborn officers gave chase but the bandits' rear car threw up a huge smoke screen which enabled the bandits to escape on their way to Detroit.

Six of the escaped prisoners are armed with revolvers taken from the guards. Four of them are wearing guards' clothes.

Riot Quelled

Between 500 and 600 men were at liberty when the 25 escaped. The others were shut off from freedom by Deputy Wardens Haight and Frank Leland aided by guards on the outside walls. The deputies fired several times and quelled the riot without injuring anyone.

Prisoners stampeded into their first place of freedom. Here they encountered *four guards whom they over*powered. They took guns and keys from them and opened the opposite wing of the dormitory, thereby releasing some 200 to 300 more prisoners.

The switchboard operator discovered the outbreak and notified the deputy wardens who got into action immediately, but by this time 25 convicts were at liberty.

RUM SPEED BOAT TAKEN, ALE THROWN INTO LAKE

Inventory Shows 150 Cases of Contraband Liquor Confiscated, However

Erie, Pa, Aug 28—The first of the speed boats being used by rum runners between Long Point Canada and Erie to be captured was captured today by Captain Coppin of the rum chaser CG 142 just off the New York state line after [illegible] rounds of shot had been fired into it.

The captured boat is of the Sea-bright type and is capable of doing 40 miles per hour. The crew of the rum runner it is said threw from 50 to 75 cases of Canadian ale into the lake while Coppin was overhauling the craft but when the boat was brought into the coast guard station here at daylight a hasty inventory showed she still contained about 150 cases of contraband liquor.

SCHOOL BOARD ORDERS PURCHASE OF PROPERTY

Lot Adjoining North Side of Vernon Heights School To Be Added to Tract

With the purpose of beautifying the school grounds, Marion Board of Education at a special meeting at Harding High School last night authorized the purchase of the lot adjoining the north end of Vernon Heights Junior High School.

The teaching corps of Marion public schools was completed last night with the hiring of Miss Margaret Clapsaddle [illegible] as physical training and grade teacher.

Miss Clapsaddle graduated from the American School of Physical Education of Chicago last June. She was also a graduate of Harding High School in the class of 1924.

The board approved the school calendar of the year recently drawn up by Supt. Jesse Mason. All Marion public schools will open Tuesday, Sept 7.

INTERNAL REVENUE TAX INCOME MORE THAN 1925

Washington, Aug 28—Internal revenue taxes for the first six months of 1926 were almost 50 per cent higher than for the first six months of 1925 the Treasury announced today—affording an index as to the country's prosperity.

The total federal taxes of all kinds including income for the first six months of 1926 were $104,303,000, a decrease of about $21,000,000 from the corresponding period in 1925.

BUILDING BOOM EXPECTED NEXT YEAR IN MARION

Signs of Upward Movement Already in Evidence, Local Realtors Say

NEW INDUSTRIES CAUSE

City's Supply of Vacant Houses on Decrease; Real Estate Market Improves

A building revival of considerable proportions is anticipated in Marion next year. Signs of the upward movement are already in evidence in the real estate market, with indications that it will take on added momentum in 1927.

The city's supply of vacant houses has begun to decline and will soon be far below what is regarded as normal, according to reports of the present trend. Five per cent of the total number of homes in a community is generally recognized by real estate experts as the normal proportion of vacancies. In Marion this would total about 400. According to this estimate, there has never been a situation here to warrant any feeling of concern, as the number of vacant houses has at no time greatly exceeded the 400 mark.

Renters Increasing

Calls for homes to rent coming from prospective tenants have been on the increase during the last few weeks, rental agents report. Builders also state that there is noticeable improvement in the market for new homes, indicating an increasing number of sales during the next few months.

Several factors are assigned as probable causes of the promising outlook, one of the most prominent being the reopening of the former plant of the [illegible] Co by the Alloy Cast Steel Co and the plans for early operations of the General Excavator Co at the same location. Providing employment for wage earners making up the force of this plant is by no means the only

WITNESSES TRY TO EVADE GRAND JURY APPEARANCE

One Caught by Detectives 50 Miles from Canton, Admits "Fleeing"

Canton, Aug 28—Fear that retributory bullets loosed by those now under fire in the Don R. Mellett murder will seek out sudden death to them has caused many vital witnesses to attempt to evade appearing before the Stark County grand jury investigating the crime and has prompted others to leave the city, it was learned here today.

*One witness who has offered testi*mony highly valued by the investigators was caught by detectives about 50 miles from here in the admitted act of fleeing for safety, investigators admitted.

While authorities would not admit it, it could not be learned whether the actual disappearance of any witnesses caused the recession of the grand jury last night.

The jury is to remain recessed until Monday.

The prospect of witnesses disappearing before getting their evidence into the jury record was looked upon by officials conducting the inquiry as a serious handicap to the case and additional precautions were being taken today to prevent such moves.

MAN HELD FOR MURDER AFTER FATAL STABBING

Toledo, Aug 28—James Ballinger was held by police today on a murder charge growing out of a fight in which Martin Lutonski, 45, was stabbed to death and Ballinger's brother, Claude, 21, received probably fatal wounds.

The fight resulted from a quarrel over payment for beer the trio had been drinking in a cellar, police de*clared. James Ballinger, according to* the police, stated Lutonski became quarrelsome and grabbed an axe and that he and his brother fought back in self defense.

"MA" FERGUSON'S FATE IN HANDS OF VOTERS

Shrill Whistles and Bells Announce Prize Political Contest in Texas

Fort Worth, Tex, Aug 28—While whistles shrilled in the cities and while church bells rang in the towns, Texas voters went to the polls today to decide the fate of Mrs. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson, first woman to be elected governor in the United States, seeking re-election.

At the ballot boxes will be settled the classic political contest of the year in the southwest. On one side is Ma Ferguson and her husband, James E. "Jim" Ferguson, former governor ousted by the impeachment route. Pitted against them is Dan Moody, youthful attorney general sometimes referred to as the "Irish fighter in business clothing."

Moody gained fame in Texas by fight*ing the dragons of the Ku Klux Klan* in his home county of Williamson, sending five of them to the state penitentiary for flogging a man whom they claimed was too much of a sheik among the ladies.

Ma and Jim—they are always re*ferred to thus*—have claimed in the campaign that closed last night that Moody has the support of the Klan. That and other charges and incidents are what have created so much interest in today's event.

Before the first primary, Ma Ferguson challenged Moody to a wager that if he beat her by one vote she immediately would resign if the attorney general would resign if she beat him by 25,000. Ma failed to resign and failed to withdraw from the race claiming that Moody did not accept the challenge. Moody claimed he did accept the challenge and Ma retaliated with a charge that Moody had polled the large vote fraudulently at an unfair and dishonest election.

HOLD MEDICAL STUDENT FOR HEARING ON SEPT. 8

Bond of $3,000 Demanded from Youth in Death of Stenographer

Cleveland, Aug 28—Waiving preliminary examination today on a manslaughter charge growing out of the death of Dorothy Kirk, 21, stenographer, Ermil Balanescu, young medical student, was held in $3,000 bond for a hearing on Sept 8.

The girl, according to the official report, died from poisoning induced by a conglomeration of drugs in her stomach. Police say Balanescu admitted advising Miss Kirk to take certain medicines.

Police today said they have found a batch of love letters written by Balanescu to Miss Kirk.

FORMAL CHARGE MADE

Cleveland, Aug 28—Following the death of Samuel Levy, buyer for a downtown department store, last night, a formal charge of murder was placed today against John P. Benson, 54, night watchman, who previously had been charged with shooting with intent to kill.

Photograph Taken in 1883 at Old Huber Shop, Now Occupied by Houghton Sulky Co., State and Mill-Sts, Reveals Interesting Story

FORTY-THREE years ago 24 men, all employes of the Huber Co., gathered for a group picture of the working force of that plant.

Today but three of that group still are in the employment of the company and 12 are known living. The other 12 are dead.

The picture accompanying this article was taken in 1883 at the southeast corner of the Huber Shop known today as the Houghton Sulky Co. plant, at the corner of N State and Mill-sts.

In the days when this group was photographed Marion had a population of less than 5,000. It had no paved streets or interurban lines. The fastest means of locomotion aside from the steam railways was by horse and buggy.

It was in the day of bicycles, mustaches, leather boots, heavy gold chain watch charms and saloons, before the advent of safety razors, patent leather hair, balloon trousers and the Charleston.

Marion [illegible] it now are vastly different.

Board Sidewalks

Board sidewalks raised the pedestrians out of the dust in dry weather and out of the mud when it rained. There were a few stone sidewalks and a smaller number of brick, but the great majority were just board walks. W[illegible] was unknown.

Movies were unknown, horse and buggy riding were the two leading diversions. The County Fair was an event of surpassing importance.

Despite the lack of these improvements the residents of Marion years ago were a happy, contented group of people.

CHILDREN'S HOME TO GET POWER FROM CARDINGTON

New Electric Line Being Built To Supply Patrons South of Marion

The Morrow Public Service Co. of Cardington within a few days will be supplying electric light and power to Marion County Children's Home at Pleasant Ave., [illegible] Stang, superintendent of the light and power department of the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Electric Co., announced today.

A new line over four miles in length, extending along the east side of the Marion-Delaware road from a point two miles north of Waldo is being built. It is expected to reach the Children's Home next week.

The new line will also furnish electric light and power to farmers along the route.

It is necessary to remove the poles supporting the old line because of the widening of the Marion-Delaware road. Line and poles are to be scrapped, Mr. Stang said today.

The old line now supplying the Children's Home with power extends from Marion south on the Delaware road over poles owned by the Marion County Telephone Co.

Several years ago, the use of the poles was leased to county commis-

WANT STATE LINE TO BE TIME ZONE

Middletown City Commissioners Take Action; Confusion Feared by Officials

Middletown, Aug 28—*The city com*mission, in session last night voted to consider permanent adoption of eastern time only when the western boundary line of the state is established as the dividing line instead of the B & O Railroad right of way, as now outlined in appeals being sent out from Cincinnati to a number of Ohio cities.

The board expressed the opinion that confusion will result if Dayton, Hamilton, Middletown and other cities do not follow the lead of Cincinnati, but is positively against the B & O Railroad as the boundary line, and communication to this effect will be sent to Cincinnati.

Suggestion that the matter be referred to a vote of the people was dropped because time does not permit legal steps necessary to having such a question inserted upon the November ballot.

BOY SCOUT CAMP IS TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY

Program Will Be Presented at 6 O Clock, Rev. O E. Knepp To Speak

Dedication of the John A. Owens Boy Scout Camp located on the John D. Owens farm five miles south of the city on the Gooding Pike, will be held tomorrow evening, it was announced today by W. C. Brown, executive secretary of the Harding Area. An invitation has been extended to the public to attend the service.

The program will begin at 6 o'clock with assembly at the council fire followed by the scripture reading and prayer and a talk on the subject, "The Spirit of Service" by Rev. O. E. Knepp, pastor of the First United Brethren Church and president of the Marion County Ministerial Association.

"The Aim of the John A. Owens Camp" is the subject of the address to be given by Superintendent Jesse H. Mason of the Harding Area Council, which will be followed by the dedication service by Scouts Robert Owen and Julian Walker. The singing of "America" and the benediction will conclude the service.

An Indian Council fire will be held at 7:30 o'clock.

FIREMAN "DEACON" ULINE REPORTED RECOVERING

H. D. "Deacon" Uline, 206 Wallace-st, dean of Marion Firemen, who suffered a mild stroke of paralysis late Thursday afternoon, is reported better at his home, today.

Mr. Uline was stricken on the right side. The attack came while he was working in his garden on Grant-st.

He has been a fireman in Marion for 28 years. At the present time he is captain of Marion Fire Department, No. 3. He finished his trick at engine house No. 3, only a few hours before he suffered the stroke.

Mrs. Corson, 27, in Water 15 Hours; Tide Against Her

Fails in Courageous Attempt To Lower Record Set by Gertrude Ederle; Battles Against Changing Tide During Last 300 Yards

DOVER, England, Aug 28—Again woman has conquered the English Channel.

Mrs. Clemington Corson of New York landed at Shakespeare Beach, Dover, this afternoon and thus became the second woman in history to swim the English Channel.

The plucky New York woman walked onto the English shore at 3 o'clock, having been in the water for 15 hours and 28 minutes.

Gertrude Ederle's record of 14 hours and 32 minutes still stands, but the New York woman, mother of two children, made a valiant attempt at lowering the record achieved by the sturdy New York girl.

Thus for the second time this summer Englishmen have stood on their shores to see an American woman achieve that which only five men before them have achieved.

Winning her victory against the turbulent waters of the channel today, Mrs. Corson not only brings new fame to American womanhood but she also won what constituted a race against Great Britain, for Frank Perks of Birmingham started from the French shores last night at approximately the same time as Mrs. Corson and followed in her wake all the way across the channel, but when the American woman was making her last courageous dash for the shore Perks found the battle too great and gave up.

Flushed with her victory when she stepped onto the pebbly beach beneath the Shakespeare Cliffs just outside of Dover, Mrs. Corson was nevertheless just a little disappointed, for she had hoped to lower the record of Gertrude Ederle and she had failed to do so by 56 minutes.

The victory of Mrs. Corson was spectacular for during the last 300 yards she battled against the changing tide.

The ebb tide began to set in just when the American woman was a quarter of a mile within the goal. She put on a final spurt but when 300 yards from shore it became evident that the tide had definitely turned against her. There was a dramatic moment when those ashore pondered—would she give up or would she spend her last strength in fighting these tides which have defeated so many before her.

MAN FOUND DEAD ON BUCYRUS SIDEWALK

Unidentified Body of Heart Trouble Victim Will Be Buried Today

Bucyrus, Aug 28—A man apparently between 50 and 60 years old was found lying dead on the sidewalk on S Poplar-st last night by Mrs. H. S. Swartz of this city.

Not yet identified the body was to be buried this afternoon in the county cemetery.

Mrs. Swartz immediately notified police following her discovery. An examination of the body revealed nothing that would lead to identification. There were but a few pennies in the man's pocket.

Acting Coroner E. I. Laudenslager announced that death was due to heart trouble. He took the case in charge. Description of the man is given as follows: age, between 50 and 60 years; weight, about 150 pounds; height, five feet six inches.

American Labor Organization Extend Financial Support to Miners

Cleveland, Aug 28—England's 8,000,000 striking miners and unemployed will receive financial aid from 21 railway labor organizations of the United States according to Ben Tillett, British labor leader and former member of parliament, on a visit here to confer with railway brotherhood officials.

The American labor organizations decided to extend financial support to the British miners at a recent meeting at Washington, Tillett declared.

A. Johnston, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, announced that members of associated railroad labor organizations had been urged by their officers to aid the British.

BURNS RECEIVED IN TUB PROVE FATAL TO WOMAN

Columbus, Aug. 28—Terrible burns received when she fell in a bathtub filled with boiling water, resulted in the death here today of Mrs. Laura Anders, 27.

Mrs. Anders was closing a window in the bathroom of her home. She was alone at the time and she lay in the water for an hour. She died soon after being admitted to New McKinley Hospital.

JOHN RODGERS, PIONEER NAVAL AIRMAN, KILLED

Chief of Air Corps Orders Thorough Probe of Commander's Death

MECHANICIAN MAY DIE

Intelligent Version of Crash into River Lacking, Say Officials

Washington, Aug 28—While the entire navy mourned the loss of Commander John Rodgers, pioneer naval aviator, fatally injured at Philadelphia, Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the air corps, today ordered a thorough *investigation to clear up the mys*tery surrounding the crash.

Reports reaching the Navy Department revealed a confused picture of the fall of Commander Rodgers into the Delaware River with none of the spectators able to give a clear account of just how the airplane crumpled probably 75 feet in the air, and dashed into the shallow water of the river.

With Commander Rodgers' mechanician, Aviation Machinist's Mate Samuel Schultz, lying in a hospital with a broken back and his recovery doubtful, high officers of the navy feared that the true cause of the crash might never be fully explained.

It was announced here today that Commander Rodgers' body will be taken

Death of Commander Rodgers Recalls Fate of Another Flyer Who Stopped Here

THE death of Commander John Rodgers hero of the famous but ill [illegible] San Francisco-Hawaiian flight as the result of an airplane wreck Friday afternoon recalls the tragic fate of another notable flyer of practically the same time following a transcountry aerial voyage which included Marion as one of the stopping places.

Cal Rogers the first aviator to fly from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific came to his death a short time after completing his notable trip his plane crashing to earth from a height of only about 200 feet as he was making an exhibition flight along the California [illegible]

The Cal Rogers flight took place about 14 years ago long before aviation had even approached its present stage of development. The plane arrived over Marion at the noon hour and descended in a field adjoining Marion Cemetery on the east. The event had received numerous advance notices in the local newspapers and as a consequence had been awaited anxiously and eagerly by almost the entire populace.

Marion Excited

Intense excitement prevailed and thousands of citizens, young and old rushed to the landing field. Housewives engaged in preparing the noon meal deserted their posts of duty many leaving meat and potatoes to burn to a crisp. Mothers with babes in arms were numerous in the excited throngs which jammed the thoroughfares leading to the place where Rogers was to be greeted by an official welcoming committee made up of leading citizens. Practically all stores were closed and a few of the factories suspended operations to permit their employes to view the strange spectacle.

Awesome Happening

All of this happened at a time when airplanes were rarely seen and the arrival of one above the city was a thrilling and awesome happening. To have the first cross country flyer stop here and be the city's guest for an hour or more naturally caused an unusual furore.

rubber heels for the Buick engine

The Buick Valve-in-Head engine now has "rubber heels".

Here is an engine completely insulated and isolated from all metallic contact with its chassis. Thick rubber cushions, fore and aft, absorb noise, and save the engine from road shocks and strains.

Never, in 22 successful years of motor car manufacture has Buick produced a car so far ahead of its field as the 1927 Buick.

Money can buy no finer performance, no matter how much you are willing to spend.

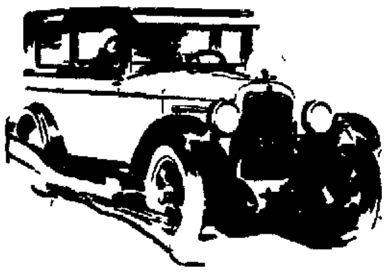
Now-the Modern Principles of European Design are embodied in this New-Type_Car



DRAMATIC changes have taken place in automobile standards of design New engineering practices from Europe made the Overland Six instantly popular

It is new all through brilliantly engineered as a unit not an old fashioned reconstructed chassis

To outward appearances this car looks very much like conventional automobiles Except that it is lower to the ground. And smartly European in appearance.

But hidden beneath the body are scores of vital engineering improvements that have practically revolutionized its performance standards improved its riding qualities cut operating costs to a minimum and added immeasurably to its length of service.

You can drive it at an average speed of 40 to 55 miles an hour without excessive strain on the engine

Its "high torque" power plant has ample power to master the steepest hills Gear shifting has been reduced to a minimum

It has a low gravity center An outstanding engineering feature due to these modern principles of design This means greater safety at all speeds It means protection against sideway and serious skidding

And it means comfort such as you've never known before.

How we reduce upkeep expense

Because of new principles of design the operating cost of an Overland Six has been reduced to the very minimum.

Gasoline expense is exceedingly low So is oil consumption

And due to its greater operating efficiency, repair costs have been brought to a new low level.

Thousands of owners report remarkable mileage records, with amazing trouble-free performance.

Top place in resale value. You've probably heard of the National Used Car Blue Book. It's published for the guidance of automobile merchants everywhere . . . to help them in purchasing used cars wisely.

A recent issue of this book gives 1st, 2nd, 4th, and 5th places in used car values among the 1925 models of 17 different automobile companies, to Overland!

So you see that modern engineering counts in used car prices It will mean a lot to you when it's time to trade-in your car.

See the Overland Six and find out about its modern engineering that means plus-value to you!

NOTE. 4-wheel brakes are furnished at slight extra cost

Other models: Touring $895; Coupe, $895; DeLuxe Sedan, $1095.

tart Service to Cattle wers Noticed in Shipments Through Marion on between the railroads es of the Northwest has re- the best service which stock- Montana ever had, according C. Lewis of the Freight Claim Section of the American Association the splendid cooperation in has been responsible for the remarkable efficiency in which shipments of every nature have been handled by the railroads of this country.

Traffic through Marion in recent years has shown this cooperation.

The Erie Railroad, reaching into Chicago and making connections with practically all of the railroads of the West and Northwest, operates daily through Marion many trains bearing all kinds of freight.

The Big Four, extending to the east and west, also operates many freight trains carrying shipments of every nature.

The Hocking Valley and Pennsylvania Railroad, although both specialize in the handling of coal, also carry other freight.

All four railroads are carrying heavy through traffic, but local freight traffic has remained steady for the last four months.

Cooperation between shippers and railroads in the west is largely responsible for the heavy through traffic and, from all indications, will continue to account for unusual shipments during the next month.

Take Excursion

Several Marion persons boarded the Erie excursion train to Springfield this morning. The train was operated today to accommodate those who wish to visit the homes of the various fraternal orders, many of which are located in Springfield.

The excursion left Youngstown early today, arriving here at 10 o'clock. The return trip will start from Springfield at 7:30 tonight.

The excursion train was composed of 12 coaches and was well patronized.

Norfolk Excursion

The 16-day limit excursion to Norfolk, Va., and return, offered by the Hocking Valley Railway Co., got under way today. Few Marion persons took advantage of the special rates.

Stop-overs are permitted on the excursion and excellent service is given. It was the first excursion of its kind offered by the Hocking Valley this summer.

New Coaches

The Erie Railroad on Sept. 1 expects to put the first of its new all-steel coaches into use, Chief Train Dispatcher J. R. Folsom announced today.

Engines Nos. 1,000 and 1,001 on the Jamestown, Buffalo and New York line, will receive the first cars for use.

The new coaches will soon be put into operation over the Erie lines passing through Marion, it was said today.

Rail Briefs

E. J. Webb, traffic representative of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway Co., having offices in Toledo, was a visitor in the Hocking Valley freight house today.

The traffic representative of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, H. E. Belenfeld, of Columbus, was transacting business at the Hocking Valley freight house here yesterday.

DR. COOK NOW EDITOR OF PAPER AT PRISON

Former Polar Explorer in Charge of "New Era" at Leavenworth

Leavenworth, Kan., Aug. 25 — Dr. Frederick A. Cook, polar explorer and former Texas oil promoter, has a new job.

Upon the release of S. E. J. Cox, also a former Texas oil promoter, from the federal penitentiary here, recently, who during his 21 months incarceration edited the "New Era," prison paper, Dr. Cook was elevated to the position of editor.

The "New Era" is published every month in the United States penitentiary here with the permission of the Department of Justice. Its purpose is "for the encouragement and educational advancement of prisoners everywhere" and is edited by prisoners, distributed only to persons especially interested in prison reform and to government officials. It is non-sectarian and non-political.

Dr. Cook has been a contributor to the prison paper ever since his incarceration two years ago when he was "dressed in" following confirmation of a sentence imposed at Fort Worth, Tex., in connection with "fake" oil promotions. He writes a series of articles regularly under the caption, "Other Worlds to Conquer."

Marion and Grand Theaters Preparing for Winter

NEWS AND VIEWS OF STAGE AND SCREEN; OAKLAND THEATER HAS NEW MANAGER

Programs of Feature Films Announced by Managers

SHE'S LATEST SCREEN "PROTEGE"

Movie fans will become well acquainted with the young woman above in the near future, predicts Cecil B. DeMille, well-known screen director. She is Miss Josephine Norman, his protege.

Harry Moller Returns to Manage Oakland Theater

Harry Moller of Bellefontaine, formerly of this city, will return to Marion to assume the management of the Oakland Theater which will open Labor Day, it was announced today by G. H. Foster of the Marion Photo Play Co.

Moller left Marion about 18 months ago, going to Bellefontaine where he was manager of the Bellefontaine Amusement Co. Mr. Moller announced that the season's program would include a line of new and high grade productions with a number of specialties from time to time. A feature of the program will be the vocal numbers with special slides presented by Mr. Moller which were popular during his management of the theater two years ago.

The theater has been remodeled and attractively redecorated and promises to be one of the most popular theaters in the city this season. The house will open with the presentation of Sally O'Neill in "Don't." The season's program has not been announced.

THE Grand Theater will continue its [illegible] of motion pictures, vaudeville, special attractions and an occasional stage production during the winter theatrical season, Manager [illegible] announced today.

"Aloma of the South Seas," a version of a successful stage [illegible] year and featuring Gilda Gray, [illegible] shimmy artist, the [illegible] fall and winter season will get [illegible]

[illegible] Scandals also promises a [illegible] about the first of September with Jack Raymond as con[illegible]

[illegible] of the principal things film fans will want to know is [illegible] "The Big Parade" coming to Marion this winter. It is—some time this fall.

[illegible] stage productions booked [illegible] is the more than successful "No, No, Nanette." Booking date of this musical comedy has not been [illegible]

[illegible] that the Grand will offer [illegible] next few weeks will include "The Big Parade" and "Aloma of the South Seas," Milton Sills in [illegible], Jack Holt in "Sea [illegible]," Rex Beach's novelized [illegible], Reginald Denny's special "[illegible] From Me," "The Show Off," [illegible] special "Tale of the [illegible]" and the other Paramount special [illegible] the life of the late Theodore Roosevelt, "The Rough Riders."

[illegible] combination policy of vaudeville and pictures will be continued [illegible] week-end at the Grand.

[illegible] Snodgrass has been heard [illegible] in the past, but this week [illegible] movie folk were given a [illegible] of him. And [illegible] turned out [illegible] well. Snodgrass was made [illegible]. This sugar-sweet sentiment Americans have a way of attaching [illegible] person made Snodgrass. For [illegible] he was announced as a prisoner [illegible] played fairly well from a prison [illegible] when he was taken up as [illegible] fine broadcast.

[illegible] musician Snodgrass is ordinary [illegible] cannot compare with Henry Lange [illegible] appeared here not so long ago and [illegible] much fanfare. He is probably [illegible] by many pianists in Marion [illegible] his radio reputation has made him [illegible] popularly. It is our opinion that [illegible] grass soon will find his popularity [illegible] and then he will once again have [illegible] to the more commonplace pur[illegible] for existence. For Snodgrass is [illegible] showmen know as a theatrical [illegible]. Everybody wants to see him at [illegible] once. Then they are satisfied.

The popularity that movie stars can [illegible] is demonstrated in the columns [illegible] columns of newsprint that have [illegible] devoted to the telling of the death [illegible] Rudolph Valentino this week.

Editors are supposed to know what the public wants, and one finds the [illegible] of every newspaper giving his [illegible] as much news about Valentino's death and the subsequent view of his body as they want.

Valentino has been criticized in the [illegible] —for his dress, his actions and his [illegible]. But one thing can be said for Valentino. He came up from nothing. He was a success in his profession when he died. If he was wise enough to know what to do to fill theaters when his pictures were shown then he should be given credit—all the credit possible.

Jacqueline Logan, former Ziegfeld dancer, will play Mary Magdalene in Cecil B. DeMille's drama, picture of the life of Christ, "The King of Kings."

The role is one of the most difficult an actress has ever attempted, for, as DeMille himself pointed out, no greater extremes of character can be imagined than Mary Magdalene, wanton, voluptuous and sinful, the toast of Jerusalem, and Mary Magdalene after her conversion, humble, sorrowing, penitent and spiritually beautiful. Screen tests convinced the Miss Logan is capable of handling this characterization.

The selection of Miss Logan ended a search that has intrigued the interest of the motion picture world for weeks. Screen tests of thirty different actresses were taken and as many more were considered but DeMille himself felt unable to make a decision. The director then asked Jesse Lasky and Samuel Goldwyn, rival producers, Sid Grauman, movie showman, Jeanie MacPherson, scenario writer, Bruce Barton, famous essayist, Mrs. Lasky and Mrs. Barton to help him. Miss Logan was then selected. She is a native of Texas and was educated there and in Colorado.

The romantic and colorful life of Jennie Lind, the Swedish Nightingale, and the idol of the civilized world in 1850 is to be filmed.

Irving Thalberg, associate executive of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, is authority for the announcement that an original story of the beautiful singer is now being prepared for the screen.

Jennie Lind was brought to America by P. T. Barnum, the greatest showman of the Nineteenth Century. An actress to play the role of Jennie Lind has not yet been selected.

F. W. Murnau, the red-headed German director of "The Last Laugh," and Hollywood's latest importation in the effort of American companies to "buy out" the German menace, will direct one picture for Fox Films. One of the smallest casts on record will be used in "The Song of Two Humans," only three characters appearing in the film. George O'Brien will have the leading role.

With seventeen motion pictures now being filmed simultaneously, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios are the heaviest producers in the world at the present time.

The following well-known players are now engaged on the great M-G-M lot at Culver City near Los Angeles:

Lillian Gish, Norman Kerry, Creigh*ton Hale, David Torrence, Hobart* Bosworth, Antonio Moreno, Greta Garbo, Lon Chaney, William Haines, Eleanor Boardman, Carmel Myers, Marc McDermott, Armand Kaliz, Lionel Barrymore, Virginia Brown Faire, Roy D'Arcy, Owen Moore, Louise Fazenda, John Gilbert, Lars Hanson, Joan Crawford, Francis X. Bushman, Jr., Beatrice Lillie, Ramon Novarro, Alice Terry, Oscar Shaw, Dorothy Phillips, Charles Ray, Gertrude Olmsted, Lew Cody, May McAvoy, Conrad Nagel, Sally O'Neil, Warner Oland, Renee Adoree, Gardner James, Bert Roach, Claire McDowell and Tim McCoy.

Marion Davies, dainty blonde Cosmopolitan star who produces on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot, has just completed "The Red Mill" and will soon start "Tillie the Toiler," an adaptation for the screen by Agnes Christine Johnston.

David Ward, the foremost impersonator of George Washington, plays the part of an Austrian soldier in the body guard of Emperor Franz Josef. Erich von Stroheim selected Ward as an excellent Austrian type for his picture "The Wedding March."

Athletes are not the only persons who go stale. To avoid such a possibility, Reginald Denny, Universal star, and William Seiter, director for Denny's last five comedies, have decided to part company at least temporarily after they finish "The Cheerful Fraud."

Gertrude Olmsted, who entered the films with Universal six years ago when she won an Elks' beauty contest in Chicago, was borrowed from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for Denny's leading lady. Mrs. Olmsted was recently married to Robert Z. Leonard, M-G-M director, the divorced husband of Mae Murray.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., the son of the original Doug, is fast becoming one of the most sought-after juvenile leading men in Hollywood, proving thereby that he is a chip of the old block." Following his work in "Padlocked," young Fairbanks signed with Metropolitan Pictures to play with Marie Prevost in "Man Bait."

Francis X. Bushman, Jr., the son of Beverly Bayne and Francis X. Sr., is also coming along in pictures. Young Bushman recently signed a five-year contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Universal executives finally decided that "Oh Promise Me" was a little bit too wishy-washy for such a rugged young man as Hoot Gibson. They thereupon changed the title of the cowboy star's next picture to "The Buckaroo Kid."

Constance Howard, the sister-in-law of Sam Goldwyn, motion picture producer, has just completed her first picture in the movies. She played leading lady for Doug MacLean in "Here He Comes."

Robert Agnew, playing the leading role in King Baggott's [illegible] "The Stretch," a race story now being filmed at Riverside, travels 110 miles a day to keep an engagement in Hollywood each evening with tiny May McAvoy, movie actress.

FOREMOST motion pictures together with occasional musical attractions will be the policy of the Marion Theater during the coming fall and winter season, according to Manager G. H. Foster.

Both dramatic and comedy stars are given full play in the attractions now booked.

One of the foremost is "Variety," to be shown within a few weeks. "Variety" is a German-made film that has caused comment everywhere it has been shown. It is a vivid piece of motion picture work, so vivid that its realism was curtailed somewhat by the Ohio Board of Censors. At its showing in the Rialto, New York, it ran eight weeks.

Manager Foster announces that the Ohio Wesleyan University Glee Club and Instrumentalists, made up of 28 students, will appear at the Marion during the winter vacation for a special engagement.

Other film attractions now booked include Thomas Meighan in "Tin Gods," Viola Dana in "Bigger than Barnum," Monte Blue in "Across the Pacific," Corinne Griffith in "Into Her Kingdom," Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton in "We're in the Navy," Colleen Moore in "It Must be Love," Conrad Nagel in "His Official Wife," Harold Lloyd's new comedy [illegible], "One Minute to Go," Lon Chaney in "The Road to Mandalay," Gene Stratton Porter's "Laddie," Constance Talmadge in "Duchess of Buffalo," Gloria Swanson in "Fine Manners," Buster Keaton in "Battling Butler," Ronald Colman in "Beau Geste," and Richard Dix in "The Quarterback."

MOUND DISCOVERIES ARE CALLED PRICELESS

Chillicothe, Aug. 28—Three discoveries made yesterday by excavators working in the Preserve unit of the Seip group near here were today pronounced almost priceless. One was a copper breast plate worn either for protection or ornaments, and another was a copper [illegible] head. The third was samples of [illegible] cloth.

The articles were found in one of the excavated mounds.

Former LaRue Resident Nominated by Republicans for County Judgeship

Former State Senator [illegible] F. Myers was nominated as the Republican candidate for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas to succeed Judge [illegible] at Tuesday's primaries last week. He received an unusually high vote and his nomination petition was signed by practically every Republican attorney. He was elected State Senator [illegible] the largest lead ever held, leading by over 2,500 votes. He is a son of Mr. [illegible] J. Myers, of north of LaRue. He is 51 years of age and has practiced law in Marion for 30 years.

It is urged by his friends that his knowledge of the law, good business judgment, firm mind and remarkable memory fit him well for the judgeship; that his success as a trial lawyer and his standing in the front rank of the Marion bar is not the result of the favor of fortune, but is the result of industry and real ability. It is said that he has never refused [illegible] because of their poverty or lack of influence. Possessing a very pleasing manner and being a good campaigner he is a very strong candidate and political observers say that he will receive practically the entire vote of LaRue and vicinity. The News urges citizens to vote the non-partisan judicial ballot at the November election as they will have an opportunity to elect an unusually able, conscientious and courageous lawyer in Mr. Myers as Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Marion County.—LaRue News.

HELD TO GRAND JURY

Cincinnati, Aug. 28—Thurston Bloomfield, 21, was bound over to the grand jury without bond on a charge of first degree murder for the death of George Richards, 19, a Cincinnati athlete. Bloomfield admitted to police he had inflicted the knife wounds that led to Richards' death, but insisted he acted in self-defense. The case grew out of a street fight Tuesday night.

It pays to have good friends, provided they are good for all the money they borrow.

If Lohengrin could have anticipated the modern attitude toward matrimony he might have done full service with his musical genius by writing a companion piece for the wedding march to be used at the time the divorce decree is granted.

A Pontiac, Michigan, man committed suicide after writing a farewell message which read: "Money talks and I have none." One thing is sure, there's no chance for him to strike up a conversation now.

Three hundred women motorists of Paterson, New Jersey, have formed an organization to promote traffic safety but back-seat drivers are barred from membership.

The general public generally judges what a man is worth by the size of his bank account but it takes the members of his family to place an accurate appraisal on his actual value.

While some men succeed because of their foresight many more fail as a consequence of their oversights.

Just as we are recovering from our feeling of alarm and concern over the tendency of the modern girl to adopt masculine habits and styles, along comes the report that our boys and young men threaten to become addicted to the use of cosmetics, and to say that we view that development with alarm is far from being a sufficiently vigorous expression.

Louis J. Taber, eminent Ohio agriculturist who is now head of the National Grange, has returned from a trip overseas and tells President Coolidge that most of Europe's troubles are due to the liquor traffic. That's about the most serious indictment ever placed against John Barleycorn.

The picnic season is about at an end and probably by this time the ants and flies have stored up enough of the summer delicacies to last well through the winter.

Secretary Mellon is going in for rowing as recreation during his stay in Europe. The fact that he is not doing any fishing eliminates the danger of one possible source of dispute in cabinet meetings following the vacation season.

People who are ambitious to stay in the limelight should realize that if they remain there too long their flaws are certain to be detected.

Imagine the size of King Solomon's barber bill if bobbed hair had been the style in his time.

The fact that the strains of "Sweet Adeline" are seldom heard any more during the night hours doesn't necessarily prove that less liquor is being consumed. A few drinks of the average modern beverage and the victim is unable to remember that the famous ballad of the inebriates was ever written, much less to attempt singing it.

With the Charleston going through its dying struggles, according to the prevailing opinion, delegates at a dancing masters' convention in New York City saw a substitute known as "Valencia," a Spanish fox trot, demonstrated by a lithe and skillful young woman from Newark, New Jersey. Probably there is reason to be thankful for the fact that responsibility for the new creation has been shifted from America to another country.

The Kiwanis Convention.

Members of the Kiwanis club are undecided over whether it would be advisable for them to list Marion as a candidate for the 1927 state convention of the organization. Some are of the opinion that the move would be futile and hopeless in competition with some of the larger cities of the state. Others are inclined to believe that Marion is hardly large enough to take care of the convention, which would bring a thousand or more visitors into the city for a period of two or three days. Other objections are raised, as is usually the case in considering a project of that magnitude and the Kiwanians are showing wisdom, of course, in acting carefully and with deliberation. Too often individuals and organizations are carried away by enthusiasm over proposals of this sort and as a consequence fail to exercise calm judgment and foresight. A convention properly handled is an excellent advertisement for the community which acts as host, but one poorly managed naturally has just the opposite effect.

We are convinced, however, that Marion is in position to entertain the Kiwanis convention capably and with credit and sincerely hope that the local club will decide to put forth an effort to have this city chosen as the 1927 meeting place. Certainly we should not hold back because of big city competition. Even though we might fail in the contest, Marion will benefit from the advertising certain to result from making a bid for the honor. It will tend to mark the local Kiwanis club as a live, aggressive organization and Marion as a community of the same type. There could be no better advertising than that.

Well-Informed Speakers.

Diverting from the customary plan of having professional speakers feature its programs, the Marion Rotary club is extending invitations to representatives of various occupations and lines of business to give talks on vocational subjects. They discuss their own business or profession, its problems and methods of operation, and as a consequence are provided with a topic with which they are thoroughly conversant. They are not forced to theorize or philosophize as is frequently necessary with speakers who have never had actual and practical experience in the more material affairs of life, but are in position to talk understandingly of every-day problems and the means used to solve them.

These men may not be orators—few of them are even slightly gifted in that respect—but they are well informed regarding their subject matter and as a consequence their speeches are more than ordinary worthwhile.

This plan of program has been adopted by luncheon clubs in many localities throughout the country during the last year or more, and has yielded exceptional benefits for the members of these organizations. Practically all of them are business or professional men who profit greatly by hearing how their neighbors engaged in different lines of endeavor manage their affairs and strive to get the most satisfactory results. Furthermore, the program contributes to community advancement, for by familiarizing the shoe merchant with the methods used by the dry goods dealers, the wholesale grocer with the problems of the various retailers, one manufacturer with the system employed by another, and on down the line, there is created a bond of mutual understanding and helpfulness that is certain to be highly profitable.

The speaker who knows his subject is always worth hearing, regardless of whether or not he lacks ability to speak readily and fluently. When he has finished his audience is aware that it has been enlightened and as a consequence has not wasted its time. That is more than can be said for many professional lecturers who base their eloquent discourses almost entirely upon data gleaned from books and magazines and upon their own theories which are often highly fanciful and visionary. Not all are of that class but there are some, and most of us have had the misfortune to sit through their high-sounding oratorical effusions, only to be left in a daze and a quandary over what it was all about.

Women's Rights

Mrs. Bell Sherwin, president of the National League of Women Voters, issues a statement which reveals that not all obstacles to the successful functioning of women suffrage have been eliminated. The men have done their part by enacting laws sharing the rights of full citizenship with the other sex, but the women themselves are preventing the new system from working properly, according to Mrs. Sherwin, and she is by no means in a gentle mood over the situation.

"Women who refuse to vote because they have to disclose their age are out of date and handicap women's political progress." Mrs. Sherwin declares. "A woman's age, no matter what it may be, is not a thing to be ashamed of, unless indeed it proves that with years she has not gained understanding. There is absolutely no reason for refusing to tell one's age. A woman who indulges in a vanishing Victorian foible to the exclusion of her right to vote is out of all proportion a detriment to progressive women who bravely accept life today on life's new terms."

The chances are that while Mrs. Sherwin's view of the situation may be correct, all of her arguments and pleadings on this particular question are likely to be unavailing with many of her sex. The right to vote is indeed a rare privilege but that it will take precedence in woman's estimation over the privilege of keeping her age a secret is inconceivable.

A straw vote is a ticklish thing, especially for anybody who uses its figures as a tip for betting on the election results.

Publicity a Police Aid.

Mr. Leuck, assistant district attorney who is acting as chief aide to his superior, Mr. Bernstein, in attempting to clean out the evil herdes in Canton, says that the Mellett slayers will be captured and convicted and that newspaper publicity will have to be given credit for the victory. He believes that it is impossible for the guilty to escape in the face of the relentless nation-wide campaign for their apprehension conducted by the press, which has so thoroughly informed the public regarding the case that almost every citizen is in position to help in the man-hunt.

Other authorities say that much of the publicity has handicapped the investigation because it has kept the crooks too well-posted on the plans and procedure of officers and prosecutors.

Thus is a question that has long been in dispute among police and court officials strikingly illustrated in one of the most important murder cases in the history of the country.

There was a time when police generally held aloof from newspaper reporters while investigating crimes and trailing criminals, aiming to avoid publication of developments until holeproof evidence might be obtained and arrests actually made. During recent years there has been a breaking away from this policy and authorities have come to realize that in most cases publicity helps in the pursuit of law violators instead of acting as a hindrance. This is not invariably true, of course, for there are exceptions in everything. But as a rule justice is likely to be better served by law enforcers and the press working together. The press is ready and willing to render this service under police leadership and the police are wisely entering into the partnership

Physical Ills Retard Brainwork.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

This is the time of year when the boys and girls return to school. This is the time of year when the young men and maidens go to college. I wonder what proportion of the young people seeking educational advancement are physically prepared for the burdens they must carry.

The thing I want to impress upon each of you who will go to school this fall, and upon the parents as well: is that it is important to begin the school year with a sound body.

Let us begin with the feet. You can not study if your feet hurt. Not everybody knows how to take care of the toenails. If you have an ingrowing toenail or a bunion or sensitiveness of the feet, go to a pediatrist or a chiropodist or a surgical specialist and find out what is wrong. Have your feet in good condition, because they are fundamental to an upstanding and comfortable body. Wear sensible shoes. Change the stockings frequently. Bathe the feet every day and keep them in the pink of condition.

What about your teeth? Have you any cavities or sensitiveness of the gums? Let your dentist look you over and see if your mouth is in proper condition. The mouth may be like a rosebud or it may be a cesspool. You must have clean teeth and a clean tongue in order to have good health.

What about the tonsils and nasal cavities? Are they free from disease and functioning as they should?

You can't get much good out of your schooling if you can't hear what is said to you. Once in a while it is a good thing to have the ears examined to see if there is any hardened wax in the canal or any difficulty which needs attention.

Now I come to the eyes. They must be exactly right or your educational ambitions will go awry. Stupidity in the school is more likely to be due to faulty eyesight than to lack of mental development. Many a child who has failed to progress in school has had glasses fitted and has made three grades in one year. His stupidity disappears and actual brilliance may be noted by his teachers.

Just because a child can see well at a distance is not proof conclusive that his eyesight is normal. He may see well looking at distant objects and suffer eyestrain when attempting to read or study.

Even though the vision is sharp, the eye muscles may not be properly balanced. On this account there may be strain and inability to make close application to the studies.

Keep the body clean and the fingernails free from dirt and impurities. Wash the hands at frequent intervals. Keep the hands from the face. Never put pencils or rulers or other things in the mouth. It isn't necessary to have all the diseases that are found in schools and colleges. Attention to the well-being of the body will build up powers of resistance which will make it possible to escape infections and common illnesses.

Make sure you are in "apple-pie" order. Then you can begin your school year confident that it will widen the boundaries of your knowledge and prepare you for life's battle.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

DISCOURAGED "A" Q—What do you advise for pimples and dry skin?

A—For this condition you should correct the diet, by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee. Eat simple food. Avoid constipation. A good cold cream massaged well into the skin, using a rotary motion, will help to overcome dry skin. For full details send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

L. S. S. Q—What can be done for freckles?

2—What should a girl of thirteen, four feet ten inches tall, weigh?

3—I am overweight, how can I reduce?

A—Equal parts of lemon juice and peroxide will act as a bleach for freckles. Apply a good cold cream after using.

2—She should weigh about 102 pounds.

3—Restrict your diet in regard to sweets and take plenty of outdoor exercise. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1926.

Vagrant Verse.

"IRELAND."

'Twas the dream of a God,
And the mould of His hand
That shook 'neath His stroke,
That you trembled and broke
To this beautiful land.

Here he loosed from His hold
A brown tumult of wings,
Till the wind on the sea
Bore the strange melody
Of an island that sings.

He made you all fair,
You in purple and gold,
You in silver and green,
Till no eye that has seen
Without love can behold.

I have left you behind
In the path of the past,
With the white breath of flowers,
With the best of God's hours,
I have left you at last.

—Dora Sigerson.

Who's Who and Why.

JAMES C. CROPSEY.

The most outstanding possibility for the Republican nomination for governor of New York is Supreme Court Justice James C. Cropsey, of New York City. It is reported that a larger percentage of Republican leaders throughout the state favor his candidacy than favor the candidacy of any other possibility who has been mentioned.

For Justice Cropsey to accept the nomination would entail something of a sacrifice, for the salaries of the supreme court justices have recently been raised to $22,000 a year, and Justice Cropsey's term on the bench does not expire until 1930. As governor, Justice Cropsey would receive only $10,000 a year, and his term would expire in two years.

The justice is by temperament active and aggressive, and there have been indications at times that he found his judicial position "too tame." Before he was put on the bench in 1916, Justice Cropsey had served as counsel to the Brooklyn police commissioner, as police commissioner of New York City, and as Kings district attorney, and he was looked on as one of the most independent and tenacious fighters in New York politics.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

One of the worst things that can happen to a man who wants to get somewhere in the world is to be guided too greatly by experience. Most important inventions and discoveries have been made by men who had the nerve to disregard experience and who kept on trying to do something that men "had learned by experience couldn't be done." The experience of others, if you are grown up and really thoughtful, is an interesting study, but don't be too greatly influenced by it.

Telling a man as precisely as you can what you think of him, now and then, whether it is good or bad, may be a good thing for both you and him. This can be done, in either case, without loss of temper or unkindness. The only time it should be done, if the verdict is unfavorable, is when it will serve a definite purpose. When the verdict is favorable it ought to be done frequently, because it is a very heartening experience for the other man. But before you do decide to tell this other man what you think of him—in a critical way—say to yourself, many times, as Arnold Bennett suggests: "Who am I that I should pass judgment on anybody?"

Yes indeed—who are you that you should criticize anybody?

Bald-headed men have long clung to the comfort that baldness is a sign of brains. It was cold comfort, in competition with sheiks, but at least it was something. Now comes Lord Chudleigh, English scientist who has made a special study of the curative powers of light rays and other things, and punctures the bald-headed boom. Baldness, he says, frequently results from constitutional and natural causes and has nothing whatever to do with mental capacity. He adds:

"I have known clever men with luxuriant crops of hair, and foolish people who have been bald. A clever man is not always a wise one. Wisdom, from my experience, often goes with stupidity. Highly intellectual men often make mistakes which practical men avoid."

If the liberties of the people under government are safe anywhere they are safe in a free press. So long as there are mediums of free expression in this or any country there will be a constant safeguard against injustice, special privilege and oppression. When the channels of publicity are dammed up by laws, when editors are not allowed to tell what they know to be true, and when street corner preachers are put in jail for harmlessly letting off steam, the liberties of the people are in peril.

Mussolini may be smart in some ways, but he is stupid in others. He proposes to have the Italian government regulate what newspapers shall and shall not print.

Give the newspapers the right to print everything that is news and that is true, whether pleasant or unpleasant, and the people under government will be safe from bad hands and bad hearts at the center of that government.

Accidents in Industry.

[Ohio State Journal.]

Industrial activity in Ohio is carried forward, month after month, at a heavy cost in human life and limb, despite all safety precautions and customs man has been able to devise and the state enforce. The report of the safety division of the industrial commission is interesting when it is issued each month with its grim figures. The report for July tells of seventy-eight fatal accidents during that month, and that number is the smallest for any month of the present year save February.

Ohio is a great industrial state, has an unusual number of industries, most of the number being largely developed, with many thousands of men and women employed. From 600,000 to 800,000 men and women in the state are covered by workmen's compensation provided by the state, and the fatal and other accidents are reported from that large number. In addition to the seventy-eight fatal accidents for July there were some thousands of accidents that caused disability for various periods of time.

The state has many safety laws, the best that can be devised by cooperation of manufacturer and employe, in the great majority of places the safety laws are given observance, employer and employe doing all possible to promote safety and reduce risks. The state pays injured workmen for their disabilities, pays dependents of those so unfortunate as to lose life, pays monthly sums to those who suffer permanent disabilities, but it has not been able to take out of industry the hazard of life and limb.

Some writers have spoken of employes in industry as soldiers in the industrial campaigns, those killed or injured being victims of the campaign. Month after month the campaign goes forward and month after month there is a list of killed and injured. It is part of the price paid by mankind for the manufacture and production of things needed by the public. For that reason the theory of the state in providing workmen's compensation was that the service for the public should mean that the public would carry the financial burden and care for those who suffer. Many things men and women have for their comfort or pleasure are manufactured in places where hazards to human life and limb have not been eliminated. There is a certain price in life and suffering paid by some that the many may have what they wish. Users do not always stop to ponder over the cost of things they have for their enjoyment. Many times the cost includes life.

Q. A lecturer on Lapland showed the audience a stunted birch tree alleged to be forty years old and only three feet high, and a rhododendron two feet high. He showed pictures of some flowers, particularly violets, which were of normal size. Why is some vegetation stunted while other forms are not? B. F. K.

A. The bureau of plant industry says that the reason the birch tree and the rhododendron were stunted is because they were grown out of their range. Lapland is too far north for either of these species of plant life. The violet will develop full size, as in that locality there is sufficient season for maturity. The violet requires only a short season for growth, while the rhododendron and birch tree require a long season.

Q. Can a man be put to death in England at the king's command, without a trial? E. R.

A. This can not be done.

Q. Does the Peking Union Medical college have any Chinese professors? L. B.

A. In 1920 of a teaching staff of thirty-one, the Chinese numbered nine or twenty-nine per cent; in October, 1925, the percentage of Chinese was fifty-three. The faculty now numbers eighty-seven, with forty-six Chinese.

Q. What is the percentage of salt in the Atlantic ocean? A. W. M.

A. The salinity of the Atlantic ocean varies. There are two sections of greatest salinity, one in the North Atlantic and one in the South Atlantic, where it amounts to from 3.70 to 3.75 per cent. From these two areas the salinity decreases to about 3.40 per cent. toward the equator and the poles.

Q. What language do the native Irish speak? M. A.

A. The native Irish speak in English or the Irish language. The Irish is a Celtic language, which is now being used by a greater percentage of the people of Ireland. The decline in use of Irish began in the eighteenth century and the language was gradually superseded by English until 1901 when 20.05 or forty-five hundredths per cent. of the people could speak Irish only. The number of pupils in schools learning Irish is still on the increase.

* * *

Q. Can a case tried by court-martial be retried in a civil court? U. L. A.

A. A case tried by court-martial for military offense on military reservation can not be ap*pealed to any other court.*

Q. What are the congressmen of Cuba called, and for how long a term are they elected? F. J.

A. The congressmen of Cuba are known by that name, the senators being elected for eight years, and the representatives for four years.

Q. What was the first southern state to secede? H. T. T.

A. Mississippi was the first of the southern states to pass the ordinance of secession, taking that action January 9, 1861.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. M'INTYRE.

New York, Aug. 25 — I am sitting on the veranda of a country home not far from Gotham. It is owned by a man who with twenty-three years of drudgery has bought the right to rest. The faint refrain of Victor Herbert's "Indian Summer" floats through a half opened window.

Over the knob of a hill a group of golfers are swinging along. There are shouts from a tennis court. A graceful Borzoi dog is cocking his head quizzically at something in the hedge. It is all the atmosphere of leisure—the world of white flannels, buckskin shoes and low slung roadsters.

The host knows much of life. He has hard panned in the Yukon. He spent two lean years in far off Benares trying to establish a mill. He has been a logger in the north. He topped nine distinct failures with one whopping success.

Now he is trying to live. I did not know him in other days, but am told he was the life of hell-roaring camps. He was reckless at the gaming tables and succumbed to other primitive urges of his surroundings.

Today he seems subdued. He appears always straining to catch some faint rumbling of life he can not bear. He does not strike one as particularly happy or particularly sad, but I get the idea he is not overwhelmed by the elation of success.

Observing such men interests me because they have achieved the goal toward which most of us are striving. I notice he likes very young people about him. The irresponsibilities of youth evidently stir some romantic longings.

This morning one of his young guests called out, "So long, see you this evening" and raced off for a train to town. The host stood puckering his lips indecisively and watched him out of sight. I somehow imagined he would like to be racing off to an office, too.

It stirred my curiosity in the window of one of those novelty shops. A tiny slightly curved comb about a half thumb long. It seemed a little too small even for those whimsical slight mustaches and not large enough for the silken fluff of a sleeve dog. So I inquired of monsieur—the proprietor. It was a comb for the eyebrows.

* * *

The thing Job feared came upon him. A physician who has attended many songbirds of the Metropolitan and similar operatic ventures says in all such practise the only ailments are those of the throat. He has known cases of fear to so restrict muscles of the throat that a singer could not be heard in a whisper. Fifteen minutes before, the throat was normal.

* * *

Similarly about the only affliction of the ball player is the "charley horse" and a [illegible] sunken arches. The subject offers some fascinating study for I seem to remember that writers—who need their eyes more than most people—lead in opthalmic ailments.

* * *

Near sightedness furnished some of the world's best humor. I still think one of the most amusing lines in my time was when the city girl came out to the farm and inquired of her grandmother where her grandfather was. The old lady scanned the acres and replied, "Your grandpap is in the barnyard with the mules. I can tell him by his hat."

* * *

And speaking of mules and being brought up with them, so to speak, in Missouri, I have never seen one in New York, save a trick one at the Hippodrome a number of years ago.—Copyright, 1926.

DECLARES RODGERS DIED AS HE LIVED

Philadelphia Aug 28—Commander John N. Rodgers died as he lived—a hero.

It was his tragic end described today by Lieut. [illegible] chief of the naval hospital here while the naval board of inquiry resumed its probe of the accident which was also to claim the life of machinist's mate Samuel Schultz, 29. He received internal injuries when the plane piloted by the hero of the attempted flight from the coast to Hawaii suddenly took a nose dive in the Delaware River late yesterday.

Commander Rodgers was speeding here from Washington to attend an important conference with naval officers and to inspect the partially finished all metal airplane in which he contemplated a 3,000 mile flight when the accident occurred.

What caused the plane to suddenly dive into the water while it was trying to make a landing is baffling the probers it is said. They are to question Schultz today.

The navy yard here is shrouded in mourning for the intrepid aviator who frequently visited the city and was one of the most popular men in the air service.

Rodgers, according to Lieut. Commander Jones, was conscious almost to the end. He passed away smiling. The three persons Rear Admiral John A. Rodgers U.S.N. retired, Mrs. Rodgers and his brother Robert P. Rodgers rushed here when they learned of the accident but were too late to find the victim alive.

Notice is hereby given that on the 27th day of August 1926 The St. Paul's English Lutheran Church of Marion Ohio through its Church Council filed its petition in the Common Pleas Court of Marion County Ohio being cause Number [illegible] praying for authority from the said court to encumber the following described real estate belonging to said church.

Tract 1. Situated in the City of Marion County of Marion and State of Ohio and being part of section 28 township 5 South Range 15 East described as follows:

Beginning at an iron pin at the intersection of the east line of Windsor Street and the North line of Bellefontaine Avenue thence north along the east line of Windsor Street [illegible] feet to a point thence east [illegible] feet to an iron pin [illegible] feet north of the north line of Bellefontaine Avenue thence south [illegible] feet to the north line of Bellefontaine Avenue thence in a southwesterly direction along the north line of Bellefontaine Avenue 214 feet to the place of beginning.

Tract 2. Also situated in the City of Marion County of Marion and State of Ohio known as being part of Lot Number Eight (8) new number Three Hundred and Thirty five (335) in St. [illegible] Second Addition to the Village now City of Marion Ohio bounded and described as follows:

Commencing at the southeast corner of Lot heretofore sold and conveyed to George B. Curran by deed dated July [illegible] recorded in Vol. 105 page [illegible] Records of Deeds Marion County Ohio and in the west line of Windsor Street in said City thence west along the south line of said George B. Curran's lot to the west line of Lot Number Three Hundred and Thirty five (335) thence south along the west line of said Lot Three Hundred and Thirty five (335) eighty (80) feet to a point thence east on a line parallel with the south line of said George B. Curran's lot to the west line of Windsor Street thence north along the west line of Windsor Street Eighty (80) feet to the place of beginning.

Said authority is asked for the reason that it is the desire of the members of said church to obtain a loan of $10,000 to pay certain indebtedness and finance certain items which have been made in connection with building improvements made on real estate hereinabove described as Tract 1 as in said petition more fully set forth.

Said application will be for hearing on and after the [illegible] day of September, 1926.

Silk Mills. Several months ago he was retired on a pension.

Several days ago Mr. Rice checked over the old picture with several friends. While the names of all those appearing were remembered the whereabouts of some were unknown.

History of Group

To the best of Mr. Rice's recollection and those of his friends 12 of the 24 men still are living some in Marion others scattered throughout the United States.

Sig Probst No. 1 in the picture is a janitor in one of Marion's public schools. George Kraus No. 2 died several years ago. Ian Harlow No. 3 shipping clerk at the time the picture was taken is dead.

John Wrenel No. 4 whereabouts unknown. J. A. Rice No. 5 retired living in Marion. Cap Battenstine No. 6 dead, Charles Collins No. 7 dead. Will Myers No. 8 dead. Mike Welch No. 9 whereabouts unknown. Will Fenn No. 10 dead. Jack Whipps No. 11 dead. Bart Conley No. 12 whereabouts unknown.

Charles Herneman No. 13 dead. David Ernest No. 14 foreman of the separator shop at the time dead. George Haines No. 15 employed as a pattern maker at the Huber shops today. Charles Scrutis No. 16 living in Cleveland. George O'Donnell No. 17 still employed at the Huber Shops. Harry Kraus No. 18 owner of a grocery on N. Main st. Bud Bathel No. 19 employed at the Marion Lumber Co. William Swartz No. 20 still living in Marion.

Milo Lewis No. 21 dead. Chris Fies No. 22 still employed by the Huber Co. Charles Stose No. 23 dead and Lew Gunn No. 24 dead.

Aside from recollections centering around the old picture Mr. Rice has other memories of Marion as it was years ago.

Switching to the subject of living costs Mr. Rice declared that grocers and meat dealers 13 years ago were ashamed to ask more than seven cents a pound for bacon. Eggs sold three dozen for 25 cents, bananas for five cents a dozen, potatoes for 15 cents a bushel, lemons for 15 cents a dozen and lard four pounds for 25 cents.

"You couldn't give tomatoes away. There were none on the market because everyone grew their own in their gardens.

"Although we had few amusements then we were much more contented than we are now," Mr. Rice concluded.

benefit the city has derived from the new enterprise local business men say. A revival of demand for homes both on rental and sale basis, became noticeable and is still in progress, realtors and builders state.

Industrial Future

The prospect that other new industries are very likely to be located here within the next year and that operations of those already established are expected to continue on full time basis adds to the general feeling of confidence in Marion's immediate future. Negotiations for having this city selected as the site for several manufacturing concerns are in progress with indications that gratifying developments are likely within the near future in at least one or two deals.

stoners for the temporary installing of electric light wires. The line has never been removed and is today supplying the Home with electric current.

When it became known that the poles must be removed to make room for the widening of the highway, the Marion County Telephone Co. immediately transferred their lines from the east side of the road to the poles of the Bell Telephone Co. on the west side.

Marion County Commissioners and C. D. & M. officials several weeks ago entered into an agreement whereby it was decided to supply the Children's Home with power lines from the south, thus eliminating the only alternative of installing a conduit from the city limits of Marion to the Home.

The Morrow Public Service Co., which procures electric power wholesale from the C. D. & M., will retail the current to the Home, Pleasant Acres, and farmhouses along the route.

With the removal of both electric and telephone lines from the poles on the east side of the road, it was decided to "scrap" the outfit. As work on the highway in front of the Harding Memorial Monument progresses the poles will be torn down.

The poles carrying the line from the Morrow Public Service Co. are placed on the east side of the Delaware pk but are set back a great distance from the roadbed and will not interfere with the construction of the highway.

but she increased her stroke and surged ahead against the tides only to be swept back almost as fast as she swam. There were moments of high suspense and those on shore set up a great cheer to fight her on. Inch by inch Mrs. Corson won her battle against the tides and when within a hundred yards of shore her victory was still far from won. On and on she fought with the outgoing tide ever sweeping against her. Eventually the will and brawn carried her forward in a great final effort and she made the shore—the victor of one of the most heroic battles against the channel that this coast has ever seen.

During her final fight to win the shore Mrs. Corson demonstrated remarkable genius for she had to resort to careful strategy to win out at the end of her long battle. Time and again she zigzagged her course as she struggled against the terrific outward pull of the tide.

Shows Strategy

It was as much her good strategy as her amazing strength that finally brought her to the shore.

There can be no quibbling over the achievement of this woman, her trainers said as she came ashore, for they pointed out that at no time during her swim was she ever under any sort of protection. She swam with only a motorboat accompanying her and at all times this boat was kept clear of the swimmer. She took the channel as she found it and she conquered it.

This was Mrs. Corson's second attempt at the channel. In 1923 it defeated her but she came this year determined to win and she did.

Mrs. Corson demonstrated her superiority over Perks the male swimmer when she almost beat the tide. Perks caught the outgoing tide a mile or more from the shore and had to give up. Mrs. Corson met the tide a quarter of a mile from shore and fought it and won. Though every stroke she made during the last half hour was a struggle.

MRS CORSON MOHER OF TWO CHILDREN

New York Aug 28—Mrs. Clemington Corson of New York who swam the English Channel today is 27 years old and the mother of two children.

Before her marriage to an American she was Ame Nu Gade a Dane.

Mrs. Corson first came before the public in 1921 when she made the circuit of Manhattan Island in 14 hours and 57 minutes.

Later she swam from Albany to New York City in [illegible] hours 25 minutes actual swimming time. The distance is 153 miles.

One previous attempt to swim the English Channel had been made by Mrs. Corson in 1923. She started from the English side and got within two miles of the French coast in fourteen and a half hours when she was forced to give up by rough weather.

Her last long swim was from Dover to Ramsgate which she accomplished in six hours and 20 minutes.

TRUDIE EXTENDS CONGRATULATIONS

New York Aug 28—"That's wonderful. I extend my heartiest congratulations to Mrs. Corson," said Gertrude Ederle when informed that Mrs. Clemington Corson of New York mother of two children, had also swam the English Channel.

"But," she added with a smile, "I'm glad that I was the first woman to swim it."

EGYTIAN FORCED TO ABANDON ATTEMPT

Cape Gris Nez, France, Aug 28—Ishak Helmy, the Egyptian swimmer, was forced to abandon his attempt to swim the English Channel at 2:35 o'clock this morning. He returned to Boulogne aboard the tug Alsace.

Although Helmy began his swim a half hour before Mrs. Clemington Corson took to the water in her attempt to swim the channel, Helmy was outdistanced within two hours, being carried off his course by adverse currents.

SCENERY FOR STATE FAIR PAGEANT IS DESTROYED

Columbus, Aug 28—Fire of unknown origin almost destroyed scenery for "The Wonderer," super spectacle to be presented at the state fair next week. The blaze was discovered in time to save the paintings.

DONAHEY IS POWERLESS TO ACCEPE TO REQUEST

Columbus Aug 28—In view of the fact that the state legislature is technically still in session having only recessed when it broke up Governor Donahey is powerless to appoint a special committee of three to hear arguments and explanations on the passage of the proposed anti-primary amendment as requested by A. C. McDonald mayor of Dayton according to James Hoffman executive secretary to the governor today.

Azais Isset sounds like something that ain't but it's the name of the Egyptian minister in London.

HANNA'S GREEN SEAL PAINT

"99 See only the exterior"
Out of a hundred persons, probably 99 see the exterior of your home to one who sees the interior. This is not an argument for neglecting the interior, but is a strong reason for keeping the outside well painted and attractive.
The use of Hanna's GREEN SEAL Paint assures this attractive appearance. It also preserves the property from the destructive elements and the seasonal temperature changes.
Allow only paint of good quality to be used on your property. For nearly 40 years GREEN SEAL has stood every test for quality.

Green String Beans—When you [illegible] string beans [illegible] put them in a [illegible] stew kettle [illegible] a flavor which is lost in other aluminum [illegible] with water [illegible] the top of the beans. Boil in this water with a [illegible] for one hour. Then the water is drained off and a new supply [illegible] At this time put in [illegible] washed before [illegible] cut into quarters or cubes [illegible] not too small for it will fall apart in cooking. Use about [illegible] to two pounds of beans. The beans are then covered and cooked for three hours [illegible] but this must be [illegible] at the end of three hours. When serving the beans [illegible] This is not only pleasing to the eye but very pleasant when eaten with the beans. The new potatoes may also cook with the beans [illegible] about one half hour before removing the beans from the fire. The [illegible] served separately [illegible] Both beans and potatoes [illegible] very hot.

Tuna Fish Salad—One can tuna fish, one-eighth cup diced cucumber, one-fourth cup diced apples, three small pickles, mayonnaise. Break the tuna fish into small particles, add the diced cucumber, apples and pickle. Mix these in a mixing bowl and add mayonnaise (homemade if preferred) to the ingredients well. Serve on lettuce leaf and garnish with a green pepper ring.

Dressed Eggs—Take six hard cooked eggs and one half cup stuffed olives cut fine. Mix with mayonnaise and cut the eggs in halves lengthwise. Remove the yolks and break with a fork into fine particles, add the minced olives and moisten with mayonnaise. Refill the white with the yolk dressing and garnish each half with a stuffed olive ring. The color combination is cool and refreshing.

Book Probe
Old Friend
Bertha M. Clay
Contests

SOME one has made the ghastly discovery that in several libraries in [illegible] sections of the New England states there is a dearth of such volumes as Percy Stephen Crane, Sherwood Anderson's [illegible] Jim Tully's [illegible] Alfred Kreymborg's [illegible] and Harry Kemp's Tramping on Life. A [illegible] and I would [illegible] any move toward [illegible] committee to remedy it.

* * *

I RAN into an old friend this week while browsing about a downtown book store. I took her home with me and [illegible] To be sure her popularity has waned some but as the [illegible] have flown and her [illegible] the World's Fair at Chicago. However I learned before leaving the place that her books still are [illegible] In fact she has [illegible] who love her books by the dozen when the weather begins to wax chilly and [illegible] forced to stay indoors.

WHO loves not Bertha M. Clay? [illegible] the book reviewer doesn't [illegible] Bertha [illegible] the proper setting, a comfy chair and [illegible] appreciative mood—take a night when you [illegible] the pangs of [illegible] the man of the hour falls down on a heavy date, a murky night outside and properties a bucket and large sponge.

Bertha's heroines are marvels. They suffer persecutions such as no other 10 females could possibly endure even in this day and age; the bucket and sponge work overtime as the poor sister chokes on the last crust just as one sees the haughty sister ride by in her coach and four and her villains are [illegible] the ilk that make the propaganda in the Janes [illegible] look like the record on the back of a political candidate's card.

But [illegible] over Bertha assures one that all is well—the heroine is re-imposed a thousandfold and the villain in the hands of the executor of the law. All I need to complete this space is for some cinema producer to give vent to my longing to see [illegible] Nights in a Barroom.

MOVING up with the times it soon will be open season for contests. If you happen to have an old Jews harp [illegible] or zither tune her up and make ready for the fray. I have no advance info on what the rewards will be but it might be anything from a ticket to the Tunney-Dempsey bout to an outing at the North Pole.

EFFICIENCY

Through chiropractic even though a man persuaded himself to ignore every other reason there would be one indisputable argument, one vital reason why he should safeguard his health and personal efficiency.

On that depends his ability to produce and to provide for himself and his family—on that depends his earning capacity.

A man in computing his assets is apt to forget that his health is his greatest and the foundation of his future success, for in business or otherwise you naturally must be in top notch physical condition to show your best.

"GLITTER"

A STORY OF YOUTH AND LOVE

BY KATHARINE BRUSH

"Of course I had no money, to begin with. I lived in a little black hole of a room in a boarding house just off Broadway, and worked. Sold magazines at a stand in the Grand Central station—that was my first job. Then I was a model in a cheap wholesale house for awhile. I suppose you've never been in one of those places, have you, Jack Hamill? The models sit around in little pink slips, and fat greasy buyers have a perfect right to paw them over like the merchandise . . . and do it . . . Later I got into the misses' department of one of the big stores as a dress model, but I didn't stay. That sort of thing wasn't what I wanted.

"Then I worked in a cabaret. Carrying a tray tied around my neck with a ribbon, and crying, 'Cigars! Cigarettes!' all night long, and smiling at the men so they'd tip me well . . . Finally the manager found out I could sing, and I did a couple of solos every night. You know, going from table to table. I took a new last name then—Mountford—the [illegible] is not own [illegible]

"There were several different jobs after that, each one of them a little step up. Cabaret singer at Huber's and later at the Cafe Mandalay. And all the time, things were happening to me. Sordid things I needn't tell you. They weren't important. Then—do you remember the Sedgewyke divorce case? The papers were full of it at the time. I was corespondent . . . That gave me a lot of notoriety, and got me a new place. On the stage. You guessed right about that, though I wasn't really what you could call an actress. Just sort of a glorified chorus girl, in 'Pretty Baby' for a year on Broadway. I wore clothes, and walked around, and sang one song in the second act. . . . In the spring I married the 'lucky man.'" She mentioned a famous tonight name. "I don't know why. I didn't even like him. But he made a huge salary. . . . Gold-digger, you see. That's all I am. Or was,' she added on a quiet breath.

"We lived together seven months in an apartment on Central Park West, and kept open house. He used to pick up the queerest people—I don't know yet where he found them all. There were a lot of show people, of course, and prize fighters, and gamblers, and Greenwich village poets, and 'ladies with no destination,' as Kipling calls them, and flotsam and jetsam. We had parties all the time, night and day. Just drunken brawls. I was forever tucking people to bed. Even now, when I think about that apartment, I can only see it as it used to look every morning before the maids got to work on it. Bottles, and siphons, and cigarette butts, and broken glasses and stale sickening air. I suppose that's what made me hate liquor the way I do. I used to have an awful time, trying to get him straightened up before the performance. You never saw anybody become so drunk so often. And then one night he struck me across the face and that was the end. I left him, and got a divorce—oh, I had plenty of grounds, even in New York.

"There was a [illegible] publicity connected with that, too, as he was so well known. And when it was over, I wrote a story for a newspaper [illegible] and I [illegible] my [illegible] and got a [illegible] check. The [illegible] was Why I'm Through With Men [illegible] and it ran in [illegible] supplements [illegible] over the country. It was mostly bunk of course, [illegible] very lurid. Pictures [illegible] splashed over the pages. I [illegible] a lot of letters making all sorts of proposals and from crazy girls, and [illegible] And one from a woman who said I ought to be locked up somewhere. . . . I've always remembered that. Sometimes, you know, I almost get myself thinking that she was right.

"I'd put away a little money, but not much, and I had to make my living again. So I was hostess at the Twelve to Five Club. You've been there, haven't you? You know what sort of place it is. Just like a hundred other supper clubs. That's where I ran on to some of the people I know—college boys for instance. I met a lot of college boys. One reason I wouldn't come down to the dances you asked me to, Jack, was because I was afraid I'd meet some of them again and they'd tell you about me. I didn't want you to know. I don't now, but I've got to tell you. Something is making me tell you. Don't think I'm enjoying this, Jack Hamill!

"Of course I had grown very hard and cynical—and mercenary by that time. New York does that to a girl alone, and losing the only thing she really cared about does it. I wanted money . . . See, I told you! Glitter . . . I'd made up my mind that money was more important than anything else in the world, a lot more important than a fickle will-o'-the-wisp like happiness. Money was so tangible. So—so there. A thing you could hold in your hand. I wanted lots of it. And it didn't matter much how I got it. Do you understand, Jack Hamill? It didn't matter how I got it.

"Well, there was a man who used to come to the club often named Parke Demorest—"

"I know," said Jack unexpectedly.

The sound of his voice surprised him. He had spoken aloud without volition, for the first time since Yvonne began talking.

She stopped short now, and fixed him with her glance. "You—know? Who—who told you, my dear? You didn't know before I went away—" Her eyes filled with sudden enlightenment. "You've talked to that Toby Jennings who brought me to the dance the night I met you!"

"No I haven't," Jack said quietly. "Do you think I'd gumshoe around trying to find out things you didn't want me to know? I stumbled on it accidentally. Demorest's picture in a newspaper, and something about his having left for California. The day you did. I knew you knew him—that time in Sherry's remember?—but even then I wasn't—I didn't believe——"

"You didn't want to believe, did you?"

Jack did not reply, and his eyes fell from hers, to her white fingers that played restlessly at her throat. He felt [illegible]. A sort of mental paralysis, that [illegible] him to hear and see but [illegible], seemed to have settled on him. It's been just a lot of words, he told himself. "And they're [illegible] don't mean anything. I don't feel anything. Good Lord what's the matter with me? I ought to feel something some way or the other——"

Yvonne's voice began again rather breathlessly. "I'm sorry. But you'll have to leave it now because it's so. I've been his mistress for over a year. He gave me that limousine and these rings and the clothes I have on and he paid for my apartment. I thought I had what I wanted! Money, and everything money buys. But you see I didn't have room in my calculations for one thing. Jack Hamill. I didn't know I'd ever meet you and love you and wish—oh wish so! that I'd kept myself for you. I'm realizing, a long while too late, that money doesn't really amount to much, that love is the only thing that matters."

She stood up, and Jack from his seat on the steps raised his eyes blankly to her white set face. "Just one more thing I want to tell you," she said. "I've left him. I left him in California to [illegible] and tell this to you, and I've moved from his apartment, and tomorrow I'm going to get rid of this car. I'd just like to have you know that I'll never belong to him again even if—even if you don't want me——"

Jack gave a harsh, unintelligible cry then, and got to his feet. But she would not let him speak. "No, don't. I want you to think, before you say anything. I'm going to leave you for a little while, so you can. And bye and bye, when you've made up your mind—come and tell me—I'll be waiting——"

A minute later he was alone on the porch of the cottage called Paradise.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR RICHWOOD COUPLE

Richwood, Aug. 28—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoxworth were given a farewell party at their home in the north part of Richwood, Friday evening by a large number of the Livingston W. R. C. members who passed the evening with them. Mr. and Mrs. Hoxworth are moving to their farm the first of the week, which is situated on the Boundary road.

PARTY GIVEN IN HONOR OF CHILDREN'S BIRTHDAY

Richwood, Aug. 28—Mrs. Effie Mosher entertained in honor of her daughter, Ivalee's birthday and also the anniversary of the birth of her guest, Zaldee Malone. Each miss is 10 years old. Ten small friends were guests at the Mosher home from 2 until 5. Lunch was served and childish games enjoyed. Each received some nice presents.

For more than fifty years Mrs. Gardner Emmons has been a regular summer resident at one of the popular beaches in Maine, but in that time she has been in the water only once.

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

STILL under the hypnotism of Lillian's lifted forefinger, I went on with the conventional protest that Philip Veritzen's kindness was too much, instead of the vigorous negative which my first impulse had led me to the brink of uttering in answer to his offer of his chauffeur and car for the welcoming of Mary Harrison.

"You already have done so much," I said wishing devoutly that Lillian and Katherine were anywhere else than within hearing of the telephone. "Those roses were the most wonderful things I ever have seen. Mary will go quite mad when she sees them, I am sure."

"I am glad that they pleased you," he replied, stressing the pronoun ever so slightly and delicately. But he did emphasize it distinctly, and I was glad that my telltale face was turned away from the quizzical eyes of my friends. "I did not know your favorite shades, so I sent an assortment. But may I ask you to tell your niece not to speak of the roses to anyone at the offices. I am telephoning from my home now you see."

"Oh!" I said banally enough, for I was startled at the quickness with which he had answered a query which had just sprung into my mind.

Veritzen Makes a Request

"I never attend to personal matters at the offices," he went on, while I registered the impression that he was regarding this conversation with me as a strictly "personal matter," and was accordingly uncomfortable.

"You will tell her that?" he persisted, and it seemed to me that there was a hint of uneasiness in the perfectly polished tones. Suddenly the explanation came to me. He had sent the flowers upon a sudden impulse, completely foreign to his usual procedure, and was now regretting, not that he had sent them, but that he had used Mary's name. He was astute enough to see the possible complications which so striking an attention might cause.

"Of course," I returned, trying not to make my voice curt, and wriggling under the amused glances which I knew Katherine and Lillian were directing at me.

"Will you be ready to start at half after four?" Mr. Veritzen went on, with so assured an air that I found it impossible to voice the refusal of his offer which I had planned. "You really ought to give yourself that much time as the traffic is worst just about then."

Madge Is Twitted by Lillian

"We shall be ready," I answered, "and thank you so much for all your kindness."

"To whom?" he retorted quickly. "Myself?"

"No, to all of us," I returned steadily and I heard him laugh softly.

"What a determined little Puritan you are!" he said, then changing his tone in a twinkling to the most business-like inflections imaginable he said almost curtly:

"Then that is settled. Otto will call with the car at four-thirty. When I get back next week I will let you know what time I wish to see Mary. Goodbye."

He hardly waited for my own adieu before hanging up his receiver. Reluctantly I put up my own, and turned to meet the mischievous eyes of my friends.

"You'll have to air your cleverness on someone else," I told them. "I've got to dress." With Lil shaking a warning fist at me, I didn't refuse his offer of his car as I should have done, and the chauffeur will be here at half after four."

"Which is exactly an hour from now," Lillian said dryly. "When did you ever take that time to dress, or—pardon my existence, please—is the august Mr. Veritzen himself going to the station with you to welcome the coming dramatic genius of the country? Because if he is, I beg leave to be excused, don't you, Katrinka? I never did film successfully in the role of gooseberry."

CHILDREN'S NURSE RESUMES HER DUTIES

Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time and I would not be without it in the house. As I am a children's nurse, I have to be on my feet a great deal and your medicine has helped me wonderfully. I was hardly able to do my housework when I began taking it, and now I am a strong and well woman, able to do all that and go out nursing besides. I have also used the Sanative Wash and found it beneficial."—MRS. GERTRUDE L. STEWART, 103 Davis St., Greenfield, Mass.

Valuable for Weakness

"I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a valuable medicine for weakness."—MRS. J. A. PIXTSON, Box 397, Lancaster, Pa.

Hundreds of letters like these are received by the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., from grateful women who say that their health has improved since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DAMAGE SUITS ARE AFTERMATH OF SHOOTING

Mt Gilead Man Serving Life Term in Penitentiary Named Both Plaintiff, Defendant

Mt Gilead Aug 28—Two civil cases pending nearly a year will be heard on September [illegible], it was made known at the court of Common Pleas here today.

Walker against Zeger et al and Zeger against Walker are the cases. Both are connected with the criminal case which caused considerable interest last year, that of the state against Vinton Walker charging him with the murder of Charles P Zeger. Walker was convicted and is now serving a life sentence in Ohio State Penitentiary.

Prospective petit jurors will be notified the first of the coming week, court officials say.

In the case of Vinton W Walker against Lavada Zeger administrator of the estate of C P Zeger deceased, Lavada Zeger, Mabel Zeger, Clarence L Zeger and George Zeger, petition was filed for ejectment and damages on August 24 1925 stating that the plaintiff is entitled to two forty acre tracts of land in Morrow County from the possession of which the defendants unlawfully kept the plaintiff and excluded him from the rents and profits amounting to $2000. The plaintiff seeks judgment for the recovery of the premises and for the sum of $2000.

In the case of Lavada Zeger as administratrix of the estate of Charles Zeger deceased against Vinton Walker a damage suit filed September [illegible] 1925, damages in the amount of $[illegible]000 are sought on the fact that Walker shot Charles Zeger with a shotgun on June 27 1924 causing his death the next day, according to the petition.

MARYSVILLE COUNCIL WANTS THREE-MILL LEVY

Action Taken To Avoid Impending Bankruptcy Voters To Decide Matter

Marysville Aug 28—At the regular meeting of the Marysville council a resolution was passed whereby voters will be asked to pass three mill levy at the November election. This action was taken by the solons to avoid a form of bankruptcy into which the town is slowly sliding. The resolution if passed will provide the issuance of bonds to pay off interest and retire outstanding bonds which will fall due from time to time.

The resolution provides that the levy be three mills or less, the same being determined by the amount needed to pay off the interest and principal as it falls due. Some of the bonds that will be issued run to 19[illegible].

Reception Follows Church Wedding of Green Camp Girl to Athletic Coach

Miss Enid Virginia Smith, Daughter of Rev and Mrs. J. Frank Smith, United in Marriage to Robert Oldfather, Bluffton, Indiana

Green Camp Aug 28—The Baptist Church of Green Camp was the scene of a very pretty wedding Thursday afternoon when Enid Virginia Smith only daughter of the Rev and Mrs J Frank Smith was united in marriage to Robert Oldfather of Bluffton Ind.

The church was tastefully decorated with ferns and multi-colored gladioli. Shortly before two o'clock Miss Margaret Alspach of Bluffton Ind presiding at the organ played 'I Love You Dearly' and 'Dear One the Whole World Is Waiting For the Sunrise.' Then as the strains of Lohengrin Wedding March were heard the bridal party took their places. The bride's attendants were Miss Dorothy Alspach of Bluffton Ind a college chum and Miss Jane Griffin of Lima O a cousin of the bride. James Overholt of Wadsworth O a college friend of the groom acted as best man. The bride's father the Rev J Frank Smith read the ring service during which soft strains of music were played.

The bride's dress was of white satin trimmed in brilliants, quaintly made with fitted waist and full skirt. In her hair was a band of brilliants. Her bouquet was white roses and white larkspur. Miss Griffin wore a yellow georgette over pink and carried pink gladioli while Miss Alspach wore orchid and carried orchid gladioli.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party and guests repaired to the home of the bride, the Baptist parsonage for the reception.

During the afternoon Mr and Mrs Oldfather left for an auto trip. The bride's going away costume was a tailored black satin frock worn with a large blue velvet hat.

On Sept 9 Mr and Mrs Oldfather will leave for Napoleon O, to make their home. Mr Oldfather is employed there as athletic coach in the high school. Both bride and groom are graduates of Heidelberg University Tiffin O, class of 1925.

Those present at the wedding were Rev and Mrs J Frank Smith parents of the bride, Mr and Mrs J F Oldfather and daughter Magdalen, parents and sister of the groom, Bluffton Ind; Mr and Mrs A G Griffin, son Frank and daughter Jane, Lima O; Mr O L Disher, Rockford O; the Misses Dorothy and Margaret Alspach, Bluffton Ind and Mr James Overholt of Wadsworth O.

Fortune in Contracts Awaits Gertrude Ederle, English Channel Swimmer

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Aug 28—Being duly presented with the key to the city was all very well yesterday and quite a gracious gesture at that but with calm reflection came to Gertrude Ederle this morning the knowledge that it wasn't a key that would open any banks nor would it lock the family door against the wolf.

However I don't believe the lady will need that kind of a key now or henceforth. Trudy will be wealthy in her own right by Christmas.

The harvest moon in fact is about to come to the fall and soon will be casting its golden glow over her left shoulder. This is the same moon that shed its rays in such profusion about the hallowed figure of Harold "Red" Grange last fall.

May Sign Contract

Beware of Greeks bearing gifts, say the philosophers, but they didn't say anything about agents bearing contracts. The line was beginning to form on the left today.

The chances are that by the time Trudy finishes signing documents she will have tied herself up with at least $150,000 that will be hers before the first of the year while her total earnings for the next 12 months probably won't be less than a quarter of a million. That's almost enough to take her father away from the butcher's block and buy him a ringside seat in the Chicago stockyards.

As I understand it Trudy will sign up for a vaudeville tour that may carry through six months. She probably will play New York houses for 10 weeks at $5,000 a week and then will go on the road at $2,000 a week. This venture alone will net her more than $40,000.

When it is over it will be about time for her to start following the climate with a series of well paid exhibitions. She could and probably will go to California, earn that $25,000 they want to give her for swimming to Catalina Island and then swing back through New Orleans and the South giving exhibitions wherever they have the fans to pay her. Florida should provide a happy hunting ground in this connection.

May Write Articles

Another source of steady income will be furnished by magazines and newspapers. Trudy already has arranged to get top prices from a national magazine for a series of articles on swimming and I understand that agents of similar publications are cluttering up her doorstep. The magazine racket should net her $25,000 in a reasonably short time. Syndicated newspaper articles probably will bring in $5,000 more.

And then those dear, dear advertising testimonials. All she has to say is that she owes her success in life to rubber heels, hair nets, vanity cases, fly swatters and eating soup with a fork. Before her name dries on the dotted line she will have thousands of dollars poured in her lap.

She won't get all of it however. Dudley Field Malone cuts 25 per cent I believe which isn't bad at all considering the fact that Dudley didn't swim any channel and wouldn't if he could.

Epworth Wins Sunday School League Championship

Roy Rice Hurls Methodists to Shutout Victory Over Wesley in Play-off Game

Winners Will Represent Church Loops in "Little World Series," Which Will Start Next Week, Sensational Fielding Features Tilt

WESLEY fell—like so many other teams have this season—before the masterful pitching of Roy Rice, Epworth ace, in the play off game for the championship of the Sunday School Leagues at Lincoln Park last night.

Wesley was defeated by a 5 to 0 score, Epworth earning the right to represent the church loops in the Little World Series next week by the win.

Rice had the winner of Sunday School League No. 2 literally hog tied last night holding them to four scattered hits and foiling them every attempt to score.

Epworth Bunches Hits

Opposing Rice in the play off game last night was Corwin. Epworth bunched hits off Corwin to win, doing their scoring with a three run rally in the fifth inning.

Sensational fielding by both teams featured the game, Lasher, Street, Hinkle and Tschannen dividing the fielding honors.

Huntsman led the hitting attack for the winner garnering two hits in three trips to the plate. A large crowd witnessed the game.

The box score:

CINCY REDS TAKE SECOND PLACE IN NATIONAL LOOP

Pirates Retain Hold on First Place; Cardinals Lose to Phillies

THE Cincinnati Reds advanced to second place in the National League race yesterday by sailing into the Dodgers to win by the score of 4 to 0.

Eppa Rixey, on the mound for the Reds was practically invincible holding the Robins to three hits and a shut out.

It was Rixey's second shut out of the season and the best exhibition that he has given this year. He displayed a tendency to wildness at times, issued three passes and was often in the hole on a batter.

But he extricated himself from all difficulties speedily and effectively and needed only one run to win with.

Eppa Holds Robins

The remarkable thing about Big Eppa's game was that not a runner reached second base although six men got to first, three on hits and three on passes. Four times the first man up got on but not one of these bold adventurers could travel the next 90 feet of the distance.

Four runners were snuffed out by means of lightning double plays and so only two were left on the sacks, both on first base.

Eppa was greatly assisted by these double plays, three of which were very rapidly engineered by Critz and Horace Ford with Wally Pipp on the receiving end.

Tony Lazzeri chose an opportune time to hit his 16th homer of the season scoring two runs besides his own and going a great deal toward accomplishing a 4 to 1 victory for the Yanks over the Tigers.

Pitcher Sherrod Smith's home run in the 13th won the second game of a double header for Cleveland from the Red Sox 5 to 4. The Indians walked away with the first game 9 to 3.

The Cardinals lost their second straight to Philadelphia 9 to 7 dimming slightly their pennant chances. Bentley got a home run, a double and a single.

A ninth inning rally by the Senators netting two failed to save Washington from losing the third straight game to the White Sox. The score was 5 to 3.

Bullet Joe Bush did some tall pitching and no mean hitting and held the Giants to four hits. Pittsburgh won 4 to 0 but it was a stiff pitchers battle except in the seventh inning where the Pirates scored all their runs.

The Browns were treated to a new sensation at Shibe Park, Philadelphia yesterday by licking the Athletics 7 to 1. Although the St. Louis team has played 10 series in Philadelphia this was the first time they had won this season.

Steady pitching by Tony Kauffman allowed the Cubs to run their winning streak to six. Tony held the Braves to five hits enabling Chicago to win, 5 to 1.

England's first race course for greyhounds has just been opened at Manchester.

Marion, Bucyrus, Findlay and Crestline to Complete in Baseball Tourney Here

Lincoln Park To Be Scene of Meet Sunday Afternoon; Athletics Favored To Win, Three Seven-Inning Games Will Be Played on Double Elimination Basis

FOUR teams, the Marion Athletics, Findlay Merchants, Crestline and the Bucyrus New York Central League champions will compete for first honors in an elimination baseball tournament at Lincoln Park Sunday afternoon.

Of the four teams entered in the tournament the Marion club looms as the most likely winner both because of its record this season and the fact that it succeeded in winning the first tournament held here several weeks ago.

Findlay Meets Athletics

Crestline and Bucyrus will meet in the first game. Both teams have creditable records for the season. Crestline has a record of ten straight wins while it was the Bucyrus team that came close to eliminating the Athletics in the recent tournament.

Findlay will oppose the Athletics in the second game. The visitors have an even break in the games won and lost this season and may give the Athletics a tough argument.

The winners of the two games will meet for the championship in the third and deciding game.

Officials of the local club are planning to use Chet Sharrock in the game with Findlay and in the event that the Athletics pull through Main will be used in the deciding tilt.

Donaldson will return to his old position at shortstop for the Athletics Sunday after receiving a try out with the Newark International League club. Manager Bacon will again be seen at second base. Bacon will return today from a two weeks vacation spent in Michigan.

The first tilt will get underway at 1 o'clock. All games will be seven inning affairs. A large crowd of local and out of town fans are expected. [illegible] Macken will handle all games.

JIM THORPE WILL TRY RUTH'S STUNT

Jim Thorpe, famous Indian athlete will attempt to duplicate Babe Ruth's stunt of catching a baseball thrown from an airplane at the Edgewater ball park at Celina Sunday afternoon. The plane will be piloted by Bill Sundoth of the Smith aerial circus. The event will precede a ball game between the Oorang Indians and Celina. The Indians were scheduled to play at Findlay this afternoon.

GUARDSMAN ISSUES FISTIC CHALLENGE

Cecil Holcomb, a member of Howitzer Company, O. N. G., a young man with pugilistic aspirations has issued a challenge to any person in Marion to meet him in battle Monday following drill at the armory, W. Church st., according to Captain Carl F. Ebert of Howitzer Company.

Holcomb who weighs 137 pounds issued a challenge to anyone while at Camp Perry but failed to get an opponent.

Stage is Set for Opening of "Little World Series" at Lincoln Park Monday

Championship Set of Games To Be Run on Double Elimination Basis; Railway Service, Epworth, Osgood and Business Men To Compete in Meet

WITH all postponed and play-off games completed everything is set for the staging of the Little World Series which will be played at Lincoln Park during the next two weeks.

The series will be operated on a double elimination basis, the pennant winner of each of the four leagues competing must be defeated twice before it is considered out of the running for the title.

Railway Service, Transportation League champions will meet Osgood, winner of the Industrial League pennant in the first game Monday night.

The remainder of the schedule for the first week of the series is as follows:

Tuesday—Business Men, Commercial League champs vs. Epworth representing the Sunday School League.

Thursday—winner of Railway Service-Osgood game vs. winner of the Business Men-Epworth game.

[illegible]—loser of the Railway Service-Osgood game vs. loser of the Business Men-Epworth.

The winner of the Thursday night's game will meet the winner of the Friday night's tilt on Monday night of the following week.

The winner of this game will meet the loser of Thursday's game of the coming week. The game for the championship will be played on Friday night, providing the title has not been decided on Wednesday.

The St. Louis Cardinals have proved the greatest stumbling block in the path of the Brooklyn team this year. In their contests with the Superbas the Cardinals have won 14 out of 20, including eight straight games.

GARAGES PLAY IN TOURNAMENT

Baseball Meet To Be Staged at Bucyrus Sunday Afternoon

The Poorman's Garage of Marion will participate in a baseball tournament Sunday afternoon at Seccaium Park at Bucyrus. Other teams entered in the tournament are Shelby, Bucyrus and Galion.

The Marion team is in the trim of condition and hope to come through with first honors. The Garages will meet Bucyrus in the first game. Galion meets Shelby in the second tilt with the winner of each game competing for first honors in the third and deciding game.

"Lefty" Geller will likely do the mound work for the Marion team. The first game will get underway at 1 o'clock.

WORK NEARING COMPLETION OF OVERLAND PLANT

Plan Formal Opening of New Garage Early in September

Work is being completed on the new Marion Overland Co. garage and show room building on W. Center-st three doors west of the Hotel Harding. It is planned to hold a formal opening the latter part of September. The exact date of completion is not yet known.

The showrooms will be located in the front part of the building, with offices on the same floor and shops and storage rooms on the second floor. The storage will be for transient parking of cars, company officials stated.

Large Building.

When completed the building will be large enough to take care of 95 cars without crowding. It is 52 feet by 185 in size. It is valued at more than $25,000 for which sum a building permit was issued the company in April.

The Marion Overland Co., of which M. J. McDaniels is president and general manager, has had showrooms in its present location [illegible] Prospect-st for the last five years. Prior to that time the company was located at 120 S. Prospect-st for a period of eight years. In earlier days it was located in a barn at the rear of the new structure being erected on W. Center-st.

The new home of the company when completed will be of concrete throughout. It will be one of the best lighted buildings of its kind in the state, officials claim.

LEGION POST RAISING FUNDS FOR NEW HOME

Organization Either Will Build New Quarters or Buy Building To Remodel

Plans are expected to be formed within a short time for the purchase or the erection of an American Legion Home for members of the Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, according to an announcement made today by officials of the organization.

No definite plans have been laid at present, it was announced. It is proposed either to erect a home or purchase a house and remodel it into first class club rooms when sufficient funds are obtained.

A budget is now being kept by the organization for the purpose of raising funds for the new home. Several thousand dollars have already been placed in the fund, it was announced.

Following the organization of the post here headquarters were established on the third floor of the Marion National Bank building. Recently officials of the organization decided to vacate the headquarters for the purpose of allowing the rent money to be placed in the budget fund.

Temporary headquarters have been established at the Junior Order hall where meetings are held every two weeks.

CALL MASS MEETING

Middletown, Aug. 28.—As property owners on Main-st and Broadway have persistently protested against the operating of freight cars upon the C. & D. traction line, the city commission has called a mass meeting for next Wednesday night when a definite expression of public sentiment will be obtained before the board renews the traction franchise as recently requested.

Triple roll of hair over the ears is the newest variation of the shingle that is trying to grow long again, and many girls at the moment are adopting this very effective style.

Flow of Marion Money to Florida Stops; Movement in Other Direction Seen

Amount of Cash Returning May Exceed Original Outlays If Projects Still Pending Are Profitable, Local Financial Leaders Say

The flow of Marion money into the Florida investment field has stopped and a movement in the other direction is in evidence, according to information coming from local bankers. It is believed that eventually all of the local funds diverted to ventures in the southern state will drift back and in case some of the projects that are still pending prove profitable the amount of cash returned here will exceed the original outlay.

General estimates of persons prominent in local financial circles place Marion residents' investment in Florida real estate and other enterprises at approximately $400,000. When the boom was on in the southern state there were indications that the drain on resources here might reach a million dollars but the rather sudden collapse of the get-rich-quick castles in the real estate Klondike caused Marion investors to draw in their lines and keep their money at home.

Some local people received handsome profits from their Florida ventures, others were rewarded with smaller gains while some regarded themselves as fortunate in being able to break even. A number still retain their holdings there and are confident that future developments will enable them to sell at a satisfactory margin of profit.

MIDDLETOWN MAY BUY HIGH SCHOOL

City Commission and Board of Education Members Get Together on Project

Middletown, Aug. 28.—Because the present city building has passed its days of usefulness the city commission is considering the legal possibility of purchasing the junior high school building on Central-av which as an educational institution is also too small.

Last night the board agreed to a meeting next week with the board of education at which time possibility of the purchase will be discussed.

The board of education says there still is $76,000 due on the school building, also that they will fix the price at between $105,000 and $170,000.

Eventually the proposition will revert to a vote of the people.

When the New University Club of Boston opens its doors in September for the first time in the history of men's clubs in that city the wives of members will find that they can use most of the facilities of the club without being accompanied by a member, as one entire floor of the new clubhouse has been set aside especially for the women.

YELLOW CAB CO. RUNS FLEET OF SELFDRIVE CARS

Service Given 24 Hours, Machines Maintained in Good Running Order.

F. C. Baldwin, owner and operator of the Yellow Cab Co., has an interesting side line in addition to his work of directing his fleet of regular taxicabs. All over the country the idea is spreading to provide modern well equipped automobiles available for the customer to drive himself.

Located at 178 E. Center-st the Yellow Cab Drivurself Co. is operated under a direct license from the Hertz System. It has been under the same management for the last seven years. All the Hertz cars are five passenger sedans. In addition there are Ford sedans and Ford coupes.

The cars are all rated on a mileage basis with everything furnished to the driver including gas and oil. The cars are available at all times and the service is given on a twenty-four hour basis. All that is asked is that the prospective customer give proper identification, supplying only such information as the person is glad to grant.

Expert mechanics keep the cars in first class condition to make the ride a pleasure free from mechanical annoyance. The drive-yourself plan has been warmly welcomed by the citizens of Marion.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

"Wow! Ouch! Gurr! Kathinks!" howled the Skillery Scallery Alligator as he waddled up and down the middle of his den on the edge of the dark, dismal forest.

"What's the matter?" asked the Alligator's wife, who was mending a hole in one of the Gator's socks. And as he wore four socks and had long claws he was continually making holes in his socks, so it kept his wife very busy mending them. "What is the matter, Allie?" she asked.

"Toothache!" he howled. "Such a dreadful toothache! Gurr!"

"Why don't you go to the dentist and have it pulled?" asked Mrs. Gator. "I'm sure that would be best."

"Best for the dentist but not for me!" snarled the scaly old grouch, which I hope you will excuse me for calling him, but [illegible] was very rude. "Do you think I'm going to pay a dentist for taking out one of my teeth?" asked the scaly chap.

"I guess that is the only way to stop the ache," said the Alligator lady, who was not quite so [illegible] as was her husband. "Is it a hollow tooth?"

"It is," snapped the Gator, biting down hard upon it, which only made it ache all the worse. "But I'm not going to a dentist. Don't think it. I'll cure my own pain."

"How?" asked his wife.

"I'll go out and catch a rabbit," was the answer. "If I can nibble a rabbit's ears my toothache will stop. I'm sure. I'll go out and catch Uncle Wiggily."

"Be careful he doesn't catch you!" said the Alligator lady, and though it sounded as though she had sneezed, she hadn't.

"Ha! Ha! I should like to see Uncle Wiggily catch me!" sneered the Skillery Scallery Alligator. "I'll get him first!"

So out of his den he walked, his hollow tooth aching more and more, until that Gator was angry enough to bite an elephant if he had seen one.

Uncle Wiggily, knowing nothing of what was in store for him, was happily hopping home toward his hollow stump bungalow and his forty-leven little bunny children. I say he was happily hopping and so he was, for Uncle Wiggily was bringing to the children some summer taffy.

Having been out looking for an adventure and finding none except that he jumped in a mud puddle and saved a little red ant lady from getting drowned, Uncle Wiggily was on his way home a bit disappointed, when he passed a little round stand where [illegible] sold [illegible] or hungry puppies and also summer taffy.

"How different from [illegible] is summer taffy?" asked Uncle Wiggily as he read the sign.

"Why," answered the [illegible], "summer taffy is made to be eaten in the summer, just as winter taffy is made to be eaten in the winter."

"I'll buy a bag of your summer taffy for my little bunnies," said Mr. Longears and so he did. He was on his way then, [illegible] hopping toward his home with the summer taffy, when all of a sudden out from behind a bush popped the Skillery Scallery Alligator, his hollow tooth aching more than ever.

"You are just the one to cure tooth[illegible]," snapped the Gator, opening wide his mouth. Uncle Wiggily looked inside and saw the bad chap's hollow tooth. And Uncle Wiggily knew that sweet candy like summer taffy was bad for aching teeth. The rabbit gentleman took careful aim with his bag of taffy and threw it into the Gator's mouth so it went into the hollow tooth.

His tooth ached worse than ever

And then such a howling as that bad chap started! For his tooth ached worse than ever.

"Gurry! Scurry! Flurry! Wow! Wums! Wink!" yelled the Gator, and such tears of pain came into his eyes that he couldn't see to bite the rabbit gentleman, who hopped off to one side, back to the old dog's stand, where he bought more summer taffy.

"And I hope I don't meet any more bad chaps," said the bunny. He did not, soon safely reaching his bungalow with the bag of sweet candy. And all the little bunny children all had good teeth, none of them ached and they had no trouble.

So everything ended happily except for the Gator and he was served as he should have been. And if the loaf of bread will take the pound of butter to the lollypop's picnic, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's paint brush.

CONDITIONS IN HOG MARKET SATISFACTORY

Prices Hold Steady with Previous Week's Close; Trading Stabilized

Cleveland, Aug 28—Hogs—General market conditions have been more satisfactory than last week. Hog prices during the first two days held steady with the previous week's close and trading was more stabilized. Wednesday and Thursday showed more action and some advance, while today shows the best market of the week with practically all grades averaging a half dollar higher than Monday with a more liberal sort. Receipts show around 5,000 less than last week.

Cattle—With around 1,000 less on sale than last week the market has been gradually working to more active trading and prices on all grades of handy weight stock 15 from 15 to 25c higher than Monday. Dry lot cattle are very scarce. We look for a good demand Monday on handy weight steers. Cow stock is meeting with good demand.

Sheep and Lambs—Lamb receipts continue light but are some heavier than last week. The market has shown a general upward trend and with choice springers selling at 15.25 to 16.00 today the advance for the week may be considered around 1.50 per hundred.

Calves—An exceptionally good market has prevailed throughout the entire week's trading which may be partly due to light receipts as there were 800 less offered for sale than last week. Medium and common calves have not advanced in line with choice veals as they come in competition with westerners. The demand is good and the outlook for the immediate future is bright.

BUOYANT STOCKS MAKE FURTHER PROGRESS

Rails Move to Higher Level; Rubber, Tires and Bankings Complete Active List

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Railroad stocks steady, industrial stocks firm, domestic bonds steady; foreign bonds irregular; grain steady, copper steady; oil steady; cotton steady: rubber steady; sugar steady, pig iron steady; foreign exchange irregular

New York Aug 28—All of the departments of the stock market which have shown unusual buoyancy in the last few days, made further progress in the short session of the market today.

The railroad stocks moved into a higher level of prices in the first period and were fairly active near the peaks. Rubber and tire stocks, banking stocks and a few of the motor shares completed the active list, the balance of the market being dull and featureless.

The week end business surveys pointed out that the August records in most lines of business were unusually favorable, while indications were for an active fall and winter season. Emphasis was placed on the heavy volume of freight traffic, the surest indication of a huge business in the country as a whole.

Atchison, New York Central and other well known railroad stocks led a new forward movement in that section of the market, Atchison exceeding all of its former records when it sold around 152. The railroad equipment stocks also made good progress under the leadership of Pullman and Baldwin, while specialties were inclined to sag under profit taking.

General Motors and United States Steel sold up about a point in fairly active trading which was featured principally by the absence of professional selling pressure. Oils were not disposed to follow up the moderate gains made near the close of Friday's session. Continental Baking A and B stocks reached new high levels since their listing on the big board and General Asphalt gained three points in a fairly large turnover.

The week end commodity and future markets were steady with prices practically unchanged. Tire, textile and metal products were reported on the upgrade.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Roasting ears were popular on Marion vegetable markets today. The quotations on corn were exceedingly low and were general at 15 cents a dozen. Some of the uptown dealers displayed a larger variety and asked 20 cents a dozen. A few set 18 cents as their quotation.

Many varieties of cantaloupes were found in local fruit houses. The home grown melon occupied the most prominent position and sold at 10 and 20 cents each. A Sunset "pink meat" cantaloupe was selling at 25 and 35 cents in several of the houses. A Colorado melon, Heart of Gold, was also announced and was marked at 10 and 15 cents.

Tokay grapes were available at two pounds for 25 cents. California variety could be purchased for 10 cents a pound, Texas Concords sold fast at 65 cents a basket.

Watermelons were scarce on most counters with prices ranging from 50 to 65 cents apiece. Homegrown melons are expected in the near future.

Blackberries were marked to sell at 18 cents a pound, two cents lower than the price asked in many of the local markets yesterday. Huckleberries also dropped in price from 40 cents to 35 cents during the night.

Home grown tomatoes dropped again to the quotation of two pounds for five cents. A common price yesterday was three pounds for 10 cents. Some venders placed their variety on the market by the basket. Price asked was 10 cents.

Butter slumped two cents on the pound and set today's price at 41 cents. A better grade sold at 13 cents yesterday and remained steady.

Callie hams appeared at the new quotation of 23 cents a pound. The price was general, replacing several named last week. Pork chops sold at 24 and 29 cents a pound.

Lard was lowered to 15 cents a pound.

Other varieties of beef and pork were mostly steady in the provision market. Dressed chicken was firm at 45 cents and 35 cents was asked for fowls.

GLADIOLI FIELD IS BEAUTY SPOT

Bucyrus, Aug. 28.—One of the most beautiful sights to be found along the length of the Scioto Trail is the huge gladioli field on the Charles Michael farm just north of Bucyrus. The blooms are at the height of their brilliance and because they number in the thousands and dozens in variety they make a rare sight.

LOCAL MERCHANTS PLAN TO BOOST COUNTY FAIR

Arrangements To Assist Management Made by Marion Displaymen's Club

Marion merchants will conduct a special advertising campaign to help the Marion County Fair management make this year's fair bigger and better than ever. Plans were discussed and completed at a meeting of the Marion Displaymen's Club, a branch of the Retail Merchants Bureau, at a meeting Friday evening.

The program is to have all store windows in the city contain decorations and displays advertising the fair during the week of September 7. The fair will take place the following week. Included in the displays will be exhibits of fruit, vegetables and other articles which make up the usual annual exhibits. Attractive borders and setting of a uniform nature will be [illegible] for the windows.

The Displaymen will urge all merchants to join in the movement and arrange their windows for opening the display simultaneously on September 7.

City Hospital More Than Meeting Expenses From Its Earnings, Report Discloses

Institution Has Been Self Sustaining During Practically All of This Year, According to Safety Director William B. Strayer

Marion City Hospital, according to a recently completed [illegible] report, in July took in a total of $5,129.51 cash during the month, more than $600 in excess of the amount taken in during July 1925. In July of 1924 a total of $4,034.12 was taken in and in July of 1923 $3,660.80.

The hospital has been self sustaining during practically all of the year [illegible] the July showing being one of the best on record. Unless unforeseen emergencies develop, this favorable showing [illegible] likely to continue the remainder of the year.

Tax levies have been made in the past to help pay the operating expense of the institution and this policy will be continued as a matter of protection and to take care of needed improvements. Officials say that it would be advisable to take a chance on meeting expenses at least for several years solely from operating receipts. Until that plan there would exist the ever present possibility of a failure of the business standing as a menace to the institution's welfare.

Cash For Repairs

The cost of ordinary repairs to the hospital building was met this year from current receipts but it would be impossible to take care of the expense of more extensive improvements and enlargements from this source, the management states. There is now urgent need of a new laundry equipment and a more modern and complete water softening plant. Earnings of the hospital are far from sufficient to cover this expense, the records show.

Experience in the management of hospitals throughout the country shows that the progress made here has been considerably above the average. It is not uncommon for similar institutions to operate through a period of many years on a losing basis, making special funds, donations and other aid from the outside necessary.

The local hospital has been operating since 1920.

Cost of Meals

The average cost of a meal during July of this year was 22 cents. This includes the actual cost of labor, light, heat, supplies and of preparing. During the month 1750 meals were served.

From June 30 to August 1 there were 107 patients admitted to the hospital, the report shows. There were 853 patient days, making an average of 7 days in the hospital for each patient admitted. Four deaths were recorded during that time.

The total amount of the payroll for [illegible] was $1,12?.71. The payroll [illegible] of 1924 was $1,?30.80. July [illegible] $1,063.60, July of 1923 $1,621.05.

Expenses during July totaled $3,7?9.?? [illegible] included the payroll [illegible] salary $140 [illegible] $30, stationery $7 [illegible] $1,010, heat and [illegible] building and land $158.11 [illegible] $57,290 [illegible] $6,012.

[illegible] the hospital [illegible] during the month. [illegible] care $5,519.05, operating room $622, medicine $1,416.7? [illegible] board $2,174, dressings $147.1 [illegible] $216.

Hospital Staff

The hospital at the present time employs nine nurses, six nurses in training, a bookkeeper, superintendent and assistant superintendent, two [illegible] within three [illegible] and [illegible] in the kitchen [illegible] a total of 28 people employed. During the winter months two more nurses are employed and in emergency cases extra nurses are called in.

The report for the month of July however is said by hospital authorities to be the best report in a year.

There are 41 beds in the hospital. All the hospital rooms were filled to capacity last week.

The forenoon is the busiest time for the hospital attaches. It is in the morning that the victims of the [illegible] before accidents are brought in, and then too are expected almost the number of emergency cases. Just why the forenoon should prove the busiest is not explained.

Busy Place

On the whole, however, the hospital is at all times a busy place, from the dental clinic office in the basement to the maternity ward on the third floor.

There is the maternity operating room, the operating room [illegible] on [illegible] and a separate one for major operations. There is also an X-ray room and a dental clinic office.

The meals for patients are prepared by the dietitian and cooks in much the same manner as hotel meals are prepared—except that the menu for each patient is prescribed by the physician in charge in the same way as he prescribes the medicine to be taken—so that the hospital has little to do with the planning of meals for the patients and only carries out to the letter the orders of the physicians.
